GOP Foresees Gains Even If Money Bill Vetoes Overridden

LAKE OF THE OZARKS, Mo. (AP) — A White House emissary has told Republican campaign managers not to fret at the prospect that Congress might override President Nixon's veto of budget-raising money bills, advising them that the move will pay GOP political dividends anyway.

Democratic governors charged that the vetoes of education and housing appropriations were part of a GOP political strategy designed to put the blame for inflation on Congress.

Herbert G. Klein, director of communications for the administration, said the move was vital for the sake of the economy — and will win voter support.

Public Support Eyed
"Politically, the public will support the President when the public is so very conscious of increased prices," Klein said after a political strategy session with 15 GOP governors and five state house candidates.

He said that will be true even if the Democratic-controlled Congress musters the votes to override Nixon on either or both of the vetoes.

At the windup business session of their 62nd annual conference Wednesday, the nation's governors got word that one of their favorite financial proposals, for a state share of federal revenues, may receive at least preliminary consideration in Congress.

Hearings Set

Illinois' Republican Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie, said Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., had sent word that his House Ways and Means Committee would hold hearings on a Nixon revenue-sharing proposal.

The governors voted to lobby with "every means available" toward the immediate and favorable enactment of revenue sharing.

They named a committee headed by Gov. Robert W. Scott of North Carolina to decide how to go about it.

On an issue shelved amid earlier controversy, the conference dismissed the protests of highway interests and voted to seek state authority to spend a portion of federal road-building aid for other modes of transportation, such as rapid transit systems.

Dealing with disorders on the campus and in cities, the governors adopted a statement declaring:

Lawlessness Condemned
"We condemn the excesses of lawlessness on all sides, be it by those who are called upon to keep or restore the peace."

"We affirm that the first responsibility of the peace-keepers is to protect the safety and lives of all those involved," their policy statement said.

To that was added, at the behest of Democratic Gov. John Bell Williams of Mississippi, "However, we recognize also the correlative right of the peace-keepers . . . to use such force as may be necessary for their own self-protection."

Effects Of Power Plants On Environment Studied

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. — (AP) — A member of the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission called today for a "priority effort" to learn more about the effects of nuclear and fossil fuel power plants on the environment.

Commissioner James T. Ramey told a joint U.N.-U.S. symposium that ways must be found to minimize any significant adverse effects.

The symposium also received a study of nuclear plants in the United States and of the effects of pouring heated water into the environment which concluded that the information necessary to effectively evaluate plant locations is "lacking or inadequate."

Evaluation Inadequate
The symposium on environmental aspects of nuclear power plants is being held at U.N. headquarters by the International Atomic Energy Agency and the AEC.

"We know," Ramey said, "that steam electric power plants, whether fossil or nuclear fueled, are the most effective means for producing electricity, especially in the large blocks that are needed in industrialized nations."

ABM Foes Ready For Final Round

WASHINGTON (AP) — Foes of President Nixon's Safeguard antiballistic missile system, claiming they may have found the formula for victory in the ashes of two Senate defeats, will mount a final drive next week to restrict expansion of the system.

But Safeguard supporters, who masterminded the defeat of a bid to curtail $322 million and two ABM sites from the program, said they have the votes to withstand any challenge.

Third Effort Set
The third effort will come on an amendment by Sen. Edward Brooke, R-Mass., to block construction of two additional ABM sites. The funds instead would be spent to improve the two existing sites.

Brooke said he would call his amendment up for a vote next Wednesday.

"I think the opposition to ABM has hit its peak and that we can now move on to other things," said Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., floor manager of the bill that includes expansion of Safeguard to two new sites.

Hughes' Plan Rejected
The Senate rejected Wednesday by a 62-32 margin a bid by

Sen. Harold Hughes, D-Iowa, to kill all Safeguard expansion funds except those for research and development.

Then, by a far-slimmer 52-47 margin, it ended a drive to cut $322 million from the President's Safeguard budget and restrict the system to the two sites approved last year. The amendment was sponsored by Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., and Philip A. Hart, D-Mich.

Brooke's proposal would allow funds now earmarked for geographical expansion of the system to be used to improve sites already authorized in Montana and North Dakota.

Expansion Target
The improvements specifically include the Safeguard radars which have been hotly scored as vulnerable to attack and relatively easy to deceive by sophisticated decoy devices.

"But the important thing is that my amendment would limit the degree to which they could expand the Safeguard system and would confine them to the real estate they have right now," Brooke said. Earlier, Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., a leading Safeguard backer, said the White House was opposed to all amendment, including Brooke's, and warned that a vote for any restrictive amendment would be counted as a vote hostile to President Nixon.

Favors Minutemen
Brooke disagreed. "I think mine is an amendment with which the administration can live very comfortably," Brooke said.

"I have evidence from the administration and the Department of Defense that technically we would get as much protection for our Minuteman missiles from a bolstered first phase as from expansion to two new sites," he added.

He declined to reveal the source of his confidence. He said two senators who voted against the amendment backed by Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., and Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., would definitely support his compromise and that he had strong indications he might be able to persuade as many as two others.

Use Of Guns Shows Increase, FBI Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — The use of pistols, rifles and shotguns by Americans to kill or maim other Americans has increased dramatically since 1964, the Federal Bureau of Investigation says.

Two out of every three murder victims in 1969 were gunned down and one out of every four assaults involved a firearm, the FBI reported Wednesday in crime statistics for the past calendar year.

Murders and nonnegligent manslaughter claimed a total of 14,590 lives—including those of 86 law enforcement officers—in the United States during 1969, a 7 per cent increase over calendar year 1968.

Aggravated assaults, running the gamut from nonfatal shootings to sluggings, totaled 306,420 during 1969, up 8.5 per cent over 1968.

Guns were used in 65 per cent of the murders and 24 per cent of the aggravated assaults, the FBI said. Between 1964 and 1969, use of guns in murders went up 80 per cent and use of guns in assaults went up 143 per cent, the FBI said.

There were 178,500 armed robberies in 1969, up 14 per cent over 1968. Two out of every three victims looked into the barrel of a gun as they surrendered their money or valuables, the FBI said. All armed robbery rose 157 per cent between 1964 and 1969.

The type of firearm used in 51 per cent of last year's murders was a handgun or pistol, the FBI said. Rifles were used in 6 per cent of the murders and shotguns in 8 per cent.

As the rate of violent crimes goes up—11 per cent in 1969 and 130 per cent in the last decade—so, apparently, have gun sales.

FBI estimates, not included in the annual report released Wednesday but quoted in the current issue of Newsweek Magazine, place the number of privately owned firearms at 90 million, or nearly one and one-half for each of the 63 million U.S. households.

The inexpensive, small-caliber handguns are known as "Saturday night specials." Santorelli used such a reference in commenting on the great increase in U.S. production.

"Thus," he told the Senate subcommittee, "it is readily apparent that the problem caused by these Saturday night specials has not abated, but, in fact, has exacerbated."

Brandt Flies Home After Inking Pact With Soviet Union

MOSCOW (AP) — West German Chancellor Willy Brandt flew home to Bonn today after signing a nonaggression treaty with the Soviet Union and inviting Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin to visit West Germany.

A government spokesman in Bonn said the chancellor had scheduled a meeting with key government ministers upon his return to report on his talks with Kremlin leaders.

A West German spokesman said Kosygin has accepted in principle an invitation to visit Bonn extended by Brandt at their final meeting today. But no date was set for the visit.

Brandt told newsmen shortly before his departure from Moscow that West German views on Berlin were expressed "calmly and clearly" in his second meeting with Kosygin which lasted 1 hour and three-quarters.

Mideast Hassle Brewing Over Missile Movements

TEL AVIV (AP) — The Israeli state radio claimed today that Egypt has moved several SAM anti-aircraft missile batteries to within 12 and 18 miles of the Suez Canal in violation of the new Middle East cease-fire.

The Jerusalem Post said that because of this the government was considering postponing appointment of its delegate to the peace talks that are to open soon with U.N. envoy Gunnar V. Jarring as the go-between.

The government radio said the Soviet SAM2 and SAM3 batteries were put into place north of the Cairo-Suez road and between the Ismailia road and the Nile delta four hours after the cease-fire went into effect at midnight last Friday.

The Israeli military command spokesman refused to comment. But on Wednesday U.S. officials in Washington said the American government had received the report from Israeli sources and was investigating it.

Some Washington sources suggested movement of the missiles closer to the canal might have taken place several hours before the cease-fire went into effect and were not noted by Israeli reconnaissance until later.

Israel and Egypt meanwhile accused each other of a minor cease-fire violation.

The Israeli command said the Egyptians fired a few rifle bullets at an Israeli patrol along the canal Wednesday. A spokesman said no Israeli was wounded, and the fire was not returned.

An Egyptian spokesman in Cairo said the Israelis broke the cease-fire Sunday by firing a few shots at a soldier standing guard on the canal. He said the soldier was not hurt. An Israeli spokesman denied the accusation, saying, "We haven't shot even one bullet on the canal since the cease-fire."

Richard J. Kinlein, the state's attorney, said Wednesday he has ordered the sale of the Oceanic Motel, valued at about $500,000 and the vehicle seized from John T. Moton, head of the Eastern Shore Bond Service.

Kinlein said the date for the sale will not be set until it is determined if there are any outstanding liens against the properties.

Brown, the black power advocate who has been missing since the trial was to begin in March, is charged with riot and arson following a night of burning in Cambridge in 1967.

Dorchester County Judge C. Burnham Mace set the $10,000 bond after Brown was arrested. The trial was switched across the Chesapeake Bay to Harford County because prosecutors feared violence if it were held in Cambridge.

Proceedings began in Bel Air last March, but were switched to Howard County after two associates of Brown were killed when a bomb destroyed the car in which they were riding and a blast ripped a corner off the Dorchester County Courthouse the next night.

Brown remained missing when the trial resumed at the Howard County Courthouse in Ellicott City, located between Baltimore and Washington D.C.

House Sets Vote On Double Vetoes

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon and the House grappled today in an historic, arm-twisting confrontation over $22.4 billion funds for education, government agencies, veterans hospitals and small town environmental programs.

House Democrats hoped to enlist the support of Republicans in reversing the chief executive's veto of the $4.4 billion Office of Education money bill and the $18.8 billion measure funding the Department of Housing and Urban development and a score of other agencies.

Most observers gave the education bill the best chance of winning the necessary two-thirds majority needed to override a Presidential veto. The larger measure appeared to have less support.

House leaders ordered roll-call votes on the two spurned bills as the first order of business today.

Never before has the House scheduled votes on two major vetoes in one day.

Herbert G. Klein, communications director for the administration, told Republican governors Wednesday the vetoes will pay dividends during the November campaigns.

Klein told Republicans at the National Governors Conference meeting at Land of the Ozarks, Mo., "It was essential that the President do it."

But Democrat Warren E. Hearnes of Missouri, new chairman of the conference, said the vetoes are designed to blame Congress for inflation.

The two bills provide almost $1 billion more than the President requested for the current fiscal year, a sum the President said was "the kind of big spending that would drive up prices or demand higher taxes."

The President said his veto of the two bills was "painful." His action also pained many Republicans seeking reelection. Many have in their districts projects and programs financed by the bills.

Making it tougher is the fact that a three-week House recess starts tomorrow, and most members have been looking forward to going home to cultivate the voters.

Democratic leaders displayed no signs of political jitters and publicly welcomed the challenge thrown at them by the President.

Authorities Seek Rapist Of Girl, 12

ERIE, Mich. (AP)—Ohio and Michigan authorities are searching today for a man who raped one of three young girls he picked up as they hitch-hiked from Toledo into Michigan Wednesday.

The girls, 12 and 13 years old and all from Toledo, told police they were going to a riding stable. When they arrived, two of the girls got out of the car, but one of the 12-year-olds was trapped when the man blocked her exit from the car and drove away at high speed, the girls said.

The victim told police she was taken to a wooded area, where her assailant raped her and struck her head against a tree,

The scout train moved ahead of one of the two trains hauling the nerve gas. This scene took place at Waxhaw, N.C. about 15 miles from Charlotte. Teams To Compete At U.P. State Fair

The third annual Upper Peninsula State Fair horsepulling contest will be held Saturday, Aug. 22, at 1 p. m.

Advance entries indicate an excellent field of pulling horses from Michigan and Wisconsin.

All pulls will be made on the Michigan Dynamometer Association machine, which measures the amount of the pull exerted by the team, rather than the actual weight pulled. To compete at the next higher load, a team must pull the load 27 feet, six inches in one pull.

A team has three attempts to make this pull.

Last year's contest was won by Robert Stimer of Jackson in the lightweight division and by Marshall Grass of Blair, Wis., in the heavyweight division.

Winners of the Upper Peninsula special, which is for Upper Peninsula teams only, were Don Nettleton of Pickford in lightweights and Bill Avery of Sault Ste. Marie in the heavyweight division.

Entries in the horsepulling contest will be taken until noon of the day of the event, according to Lee Thompson of Escanaba, superintendent of the event.

Margarine was invented about 1870 by a French scientist, Hippolyte Mege-Mouries, as a result of a contest sponsored by Napoleon III. The product won the contest.

Illness Claims Frank Karl Sr.

Frank A. Karl Sr., 68, of Nadeau, died at 3:30 p. m. Wednesday. He had been in ill health for the past three and a half years.

He was a retired farmer and woodsman.

Mr. Karl was born April 18, 1902, in Kewanee, Wis., and married Anna Kirchner Oct. 21, 1924, in Spalding.

He was a member of St. Bruno's Church of Nadeau.

Survivors include his wife; one daughter, Mrs. Jerome Poquette of Daggett; two sons, Frank Jr., of Escanaba and Albert of Marianna, Fla.; two sisters, Mrs. Albert Kirchner of Powers and Mrs. Evelyn Machia of Wilson; one brother, Lester Karl of Spalding, and 15 grandchildren.

Friends may call at the Kell-Tondin Chapel, Spalding, from 5 to 9 p. m., today. The parish rosary will be recited at 8 p. m. Funeral services will be held at 10 a. m., Friday at St. Bruno's Church, Nadeau, with Rev. Fr. Ralph Sterbenz officiating. Burial will be in Nadeau Township Cemetery.

Marquette To Host Forest Symposium

William M. MacConnachie Jr., president of the American Pulpwood Association and vice president of lands and timber for the Northwest Paper Co., Cloquet, Minn., will be in Marquette to deliver the keynote address at the Forest Symposium, at the Holiday Inn Sept. 17-18.

More than 200 foresters and industry representatives are expected to attend.

The symposium will be the fall meeting of the Michigan-Wisconsin section, Society of American Foresters and the organization has invited Timber, Inc., an adjunct of Upper Great Lakes Regional commission, to join with them and Timber, Inc., has, for the most part, arranged the program.

Carl Tubbs, of Marquette, chairman of the Upper Peninsula chapter, hosting the event, will welcome delegates and visitors at the opening session Sept. 17. He is director of Lake States forest research and in charge of the northern hardwood station in Marquette.

Lee James, chairman of the school of forestry, Michigan State University, and chairman of the Michigan-Wisconsin section of the foresters, will conduct the annual business meeting, also Sept. 17.

Zigmund A. Zazada, forest research division, University of Minnesota, will discuss a research report on interrelationships of modern logging methods and silvicultural techniques and William Gabriel, project leader, Applied Forestry Research Institute, College of Forestry, New York, will discuss

Girl, 9, Killed

KENTWOOD (AP)—Rebecca White, 9, of Wyoming was killed Wednesday in the Grand Rapids suburb of Kentwood after she ran in front of an oncoming car. Police said she was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul White of Wyoming.

In Service

Thomas J. Erickson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Erickson of Rte. 2, Bark River, is serving with Co. F, Armored Division, in Berlin, Germany. He entered the service on Feb. 4 of this year.

Spec. 5 Michael C. Racine, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Racine of 808 2nd Ave. S., is stationed in Fort Muachuca, Ariz., after serving for one year in Vietnam. He is working in Airborne Infra-Red Surveillance. Spec. 5 Racine and his family recently spent a 30 day leave in Escanaba.

During the silver strike at Treasure City, Nev., in the 1870's, two miners built a house from rocks picked up at their claim. Later, when their mine gave out, the "two "mined" their home for $75,000 in silver.

Spec. 5 Michael C. Racine, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Racine of 808 2nd Ave. S., is stationed in Fort Muachuca, Ariz., after serving for one year in Vietnam. He is working in Airborne Infra-Red Surveillance. Spec. 5 Racine and his family recently spent a 30 day leave in Escanaba.

City Develops Harbor Project

The City of Escanaba is proceeding with separate plans to renovate the yacht harbor area and to develop additional recreation and park facilities on Sand Island in Ludington Park, City Manager George Harvey reported today.

Plans for the harbor project are being prepared by the city engineering department and the Michigan Waterways Commission, Harvey said, and "it is hoped that the work will be completed for the 1971 boating season."

Harvey said the plan calls for replacing the dock running from the harbor master's building westward to the present L-dock.

In addition, he said, several finger piers will be installed to accommodate more watercraft. "It has been evident over the years that an ever increasing number of boats are being moored and are utilizing the harbor," he said.

The $50,000 estimated cost of the project will be shared by the city and the Waterways Commission with the city contributing $10,000 and the Waterways Commission $40,000.

Originally, the city through discussions with the Recreation Board and the Planning Commission had attempted to tie the harbor and Sand Island projects into a single, comprehensive project using Michigan Recreation Bond funds.

Harvey said, however, that "this plan needed financial participation from the Economic Development Administration and when we approached them we learned that marinas had lost priority and any work to be done at the harbor would have to be done between the state and the city."

Harvey said that the city is hopeful the harbor project can get underway this fall.

A discussion of the city's application for Recreation Bond funds has been scheduled for Monday, Aug. 17, Harvey reported. He also said that members of the Recreation Board have been invited to meet with the Planning Commission tonight.

Fire Hazard Warning Issued

Albert Severinsen, fire officer at the Escanaba station for the Department of Natural Resources, today warned area residents of what he termed a "high hazard" for forest fires.

"There have been spots and scattered and burning building indexes are rising steadily," he said. "Vegetation is reaching the curing stage and, as the ground water tables lower this time of year, the surface soils dry out and fires usually burn into the ground."

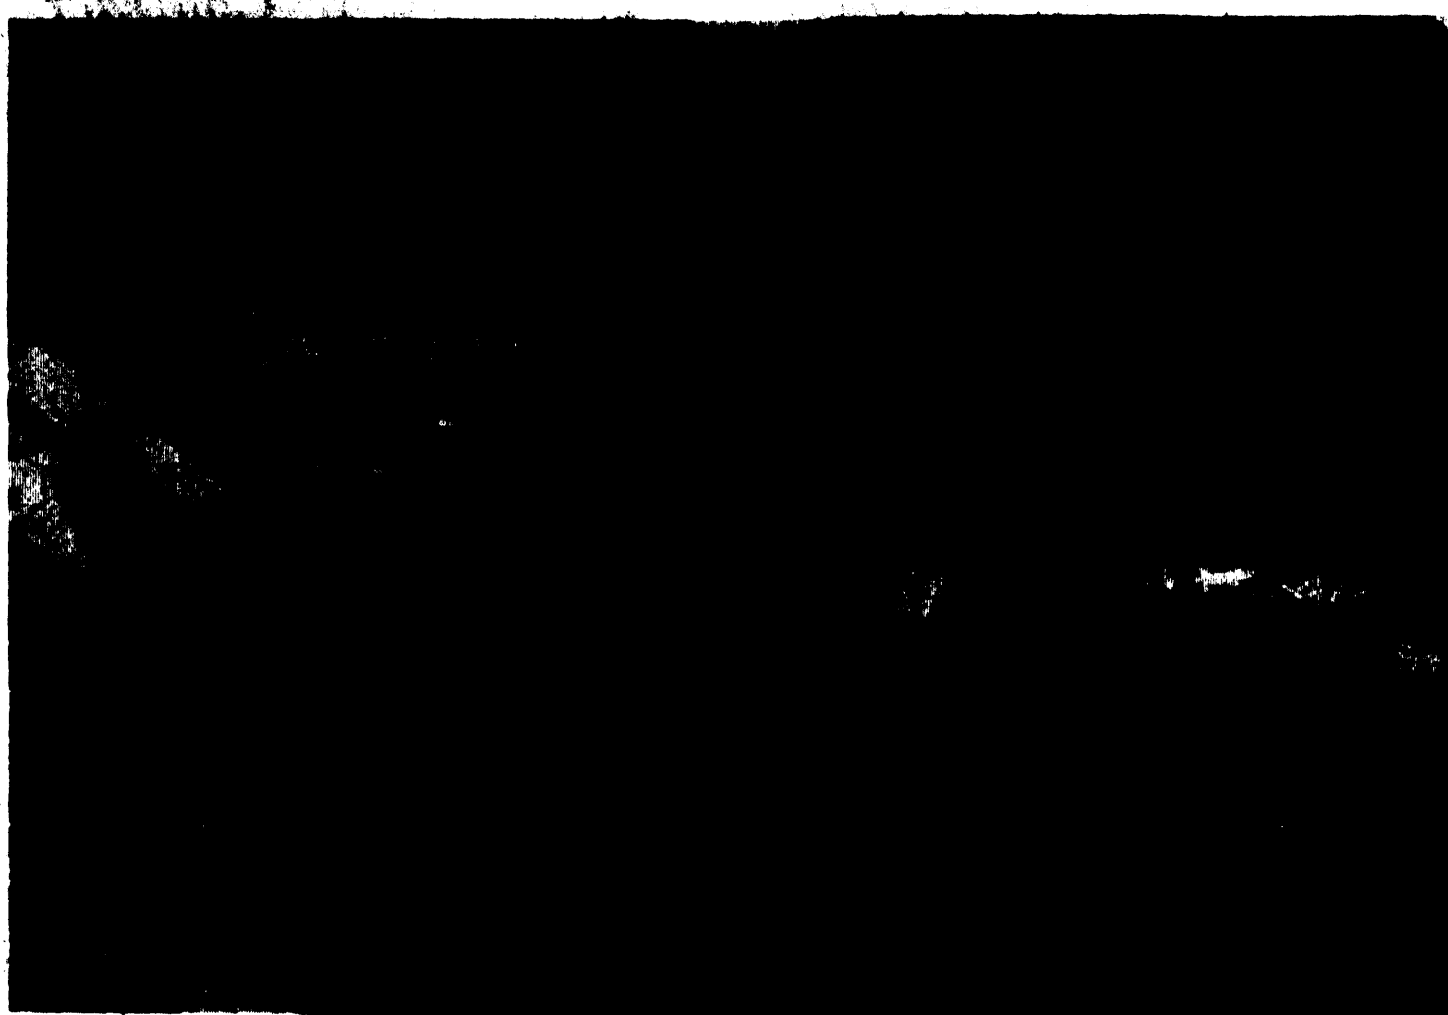

"These fires are not only costly and time consuming to put out, but they burn away the soil, thus destroying vegetation growth for many years. I wish to caution people burning rubbish or debris," Severinsen continued. "According to law, the only burning for which a permit is not required is when the burning is done in a debris burner, constructed of metal or masonry with metal covering device with openings no larger than three quarters of an inch, or a campfire."

"The law also states that any person who sets fire on any land and negligently allows the fire to escape and become a forest or grass fire is liable for all expenses incurred by the state in the suppression of the fire."

Cyclist Killed

OXFORD (AP)—David Merritt, 26, of Oxford, was killed Wednesday when his motorcycle slammed into the side of a moving Grand Trunk Western Railroad train east of Oxford in Oakland County.

In 1897, electricity powered 86 per cent of the streetcars traveling the nation's 15,350 miles of tracks.

Bay Building Named For Catherine Bonifas

The new classroom-library building of Bay de Noc Community College has been named for the late Catherine Bonifas who bequeathed $100,000 to start a community college in the county.

Action naming the building for Mrs. Bonifas—the second in the community to carry her name—was taken by the Board of Trustees of the college at its regular meeting Wednesday night.

Escanaba's new civic center building is named the Catherine Bonifas Civic Center.

Board members and the college administration agreed unanimously that Mrs. Bonifas' generosity should be permanently recognized by the college.

Budgets Reviewed
In other business, the board reviewed operation and construction budgets, approved two faculty appointments, dismissed the practical nursing program and accepted bids for construction of a parking lot and road into the new Danforth Rd. campus.

Appointed to the faculty were David P. Tessmer, accounting, and Lawrence J. Laftel, English.

In the budget review, the Board heard reports on various aspects of the budget, including normal operations, special programs, construction and furnishing plans, continuing education and community service, and self-supporting operational budgets.

The current status of state aid and federal legislation were included in the figures presented, together with a functional and activities breakdown of the normal operation budget. The operating budget was reported to now total $942,051 for the 1970-71 fiscal year.

Current planning for the basic campus, including four buildings and all site development work, utility extension and paving, totalled $1,960,722. Funds come from local millage, state and federal grants and tuition.

To Increase Faculty
The Board approved establishment of two new faculty positions in the Practical Nursing Department.

The new positions are necessary because of growth in the program and the establishment of a plan of transfer for nursing students, said Dr.

Trenary
Mr. and Mrs. Clarence LaLone have returned from a three week visit with Sgt. and Mrs. Wayne LaLone at the Air Force Base on Iceland.

Danny Cayer is a patient in the Munsing Memorial Hospital. He is not allowed visitors.

Due to the 75th anniversary celebration at Bethany Lutheran Church in Perkins, the worship service at First Lutheran will be at 7:30 p. m. Sunday, Aug. 16.

Art Saari is at home after being a patient at St. Luke's Hospital, Marquette.

The Lion's Club will meet Tuesday, Aug. 18 at 8 p. m. at the Kiva Clubhouse.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cayer and children, Flint, have been visiting Mrs. Betty Cayer.

New Penn Central Executive Wants To Meet Workers

WASHINGTON (AP)—The first step in William H. Moore's plan to rescue the financially distressed Penn Central Railroad is to shuck his coat for overalls and meet the thousands who work for the giant carrier.

Moore, an executive vice president of Southern Railway System, was named president and chief executive officer Wednesday of the Penn Central, the nation's biggest railroad.

His first task, he said in an interview, is to "raise the morale of the people by getting out with them. And I don't mean the top managers or just the middle and lower supervisors. I mean the rank-and-file workers."

Moore reasons that getting to know his employees will help him reach his objective of improving Penn Central service across the board. He said he learned from his 29 years with Southern that Penn Central service has left much to be desired.

New High School Put Up To Voters

BARK RIVER—At a meeting of the Bark River-Harris Board of Education Tuesday evening at the Elementary School, a resolution setting up a special election on Monday, Sept. 28, was passed.

The purpose of the election is to ask the voters in the district to approve the borrowing, by issuing bonds, not more than $585,000 for the purpose of erecting, furnishing and equipping a new high school building and developing and improving the site.

The district was recently advised that its application for permission to conduct a bond issue to finance construction of a new high school facility had received preliminary approval by the Michigan Department of Education.

The board also accepted a bid of $869.70 from the Farm Bureau Insurance Co. for fleet insurance and a 14.98 cents per gallon bid from the Sinclair Oil Co. for gasoline. In other business taken up at the meeting, the board decided to hold its regular monthly meetings on the second Tuesday of each month in the elementary school library at 7:30 p. m.

A special meeting of the board was scheduled for Friday evening in the elementary school library at 7:30.

Police Post Site To Be Relocated

NEGAUNEE — Negaunee's School Forest, the oldest in Michigan, soon will be only a memory, as the Negaunee School Board Monday voted to surrender the often amended lease on the remainder of the once huge tract of land near the Marquette County Airport.

The land is to be used in connection with development of the site for the new Upper Peninsula headquarters of the Michigan State Police and for the Marquette State Police post.

Both the headquarters and the post are now located on U. S. 41 in the south part of Marquette. They will have to be relocated before the highway in that part of Marquette is widened to five lanes.

Construction of the widened highway is expected to be started within the next two years.

Funds Approved For Menominee County Library

MENOMINEE—The Menominee County Board of Commissioners Monday afternoon approved to commit $30,000 to the Menominee County Library Board for its building program.

The library building is estimated to cost $125,000 and, according to members of the library board, it has been assured a federal grant of $50,000 or 40 per cent of the building cost.

The City of Stephenson had already pledged $35,000 to the building cost and there is $30,000 in the library building and site fund.

Roadside Signs

Attorney Gen. Frank J. Kelley and State Highway Director Henrik E. Stafseth announced in Lansing last week that owners of 40 signs along a 13.5 mile segment of I-69 in Calhoun County have been served with formal notices to remove the signs within 30 days or the state will remove them at the owners' expense.

The notices were ordered under a 1966 law which regulates all outdoor advertising in Michigan. With certain exceptions for business and commercial areas, the law bars signs within 600 feet of the right-of-way of an interstate or primary highway.

I-69 in Calhoun County, of course, isn't of much concern in the Upper Peninsula, except as Upper Peninsulans have occasion to travel on it. But the U. P. could benefit greatly from the billboard law in the years ahead.

The State Highway Commission, for example, has announced that an east-west freeway is included in a construction program for later in the decade, if sufficient money is available. The exact route hasn't been determined as yet — a study is underway to determine what kind of highway would be best for the U. P. — but it's safe to say that if the project ever gets off the ground that a great deal of the highway would involve new construction.

And what a better way to promote the U. P. as a vacationland uncluttered by metropolitan nuisances than with a highway essentially free of advertising bargees.

Billboards serve their purposes, of course, in pointing the way to tourist attractions and services — restaurants, motels, gas stations, etc. — for the traveler. But so many of the billboards merely promote products that are available anywhere and offer no service at all to the tourist.

Michigan's freeways are equipped with Highway Dept. signs which point the way to gas, food, lodging and other services to motorists. Skyscraping signs located well off the right-of-way provide similar service. A proliferation of billboards isn't necessary.

A new U. S. 2 in the Upper Peninsula may be more dream than reality at present. But even dreams are better without roadside litter.

Jobs & Schools

Harry R. Hall, president of the Michigan State Chamber of Commerce spoke to members of the Iron Mountain-Kingsford Rotary Club recently and focused a major portion of his address on existing inadequacies in the field of education.

He said the main problem is a vast education-job chasm that exists now and threatens to become even wider in the 1970s.

Hall pointed an accusing finger at school officials, legislators and an indifferent public.

"A tremendous gap exists now between job opportunities and trained people to fill jobs — even in this period of economic deceleration," he stated.

"The inadequacy of the present structure of vocational-technical training, the failure of the school system to adopt its methods and operations to present day needs, the failure of the legislature to effect educational reform because of public indifference and organized opposition by the entrenched interest of M.E.A., the teachers' union, and Association of Superintendents does not augur well for expansion of new productive enterprises which must provide about 75,000 new jobs a year throughout the 1970s — unless we can narrow that vast education-job chasm."

Hall called attention to the tremendous demands that will be placed on educational systems in the future. Each year unprecedented gains in scientific-technological development that require more specialized skills, more education, more training, more preparation for jobs, more retraining on the job, more adaptability of skills, more educational attainment throughout life, not just during the traditionally accepted school age, Hall declared.

Because of the great technical strides being taken in this nation, there will be an unprecedented demand for professional, technical, skilled workers, increasing in both percentages and totals, while manufacturing will employ a smaller portion of the labor force in the 1970s.

Hall's call for greater emphasis on the field of vocational training is echoed by school officials, industrial leaders, members of boards of education throughout the Upper Peninsula.

With a steady increase in population in Michigan (7.8 million to 8.8 million from 1960 to 1980) there will be enough people to meet the state's job requirements. The past decade has seen an increase of 800,000 in the number of high school, college and labor force age citizens in Michigan.

The question is, can the schools properly prepare them for the jobs that will be available in the '70s?

Peninsula Potpourri

A "population explosion" is providing somewhat of a traffic hazard in the Sault Ste. Marie area. Sault police say they've picked up more than 20 herring gulls — young ones which haven't learned that cars are a danger. Hundreds of gulls, reared on the many small islands in the eastern end of Lake Superior, are invading the Sault area. Many wind up in waterfront parks, where they are a tourist attraction and where visitors feed them. If the gulls survive the first few weeks, they become smart enough to dodge a moving vehicle when they land on a highway to pick up food.

The huge surge tank atop Mt. Menard in Marquette will once again become a nocturnal landmark if plans of the Chamber of Commerce there materialize. The body is considering the possibility of having the 84-foot high tower illuminated and embellished with a crown symbolizing Marquette as "the Queen City of the North."

The Israelis Would Use The Atom Bomb

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN
This column made a couple of guesses the other day, or maybe deductions would be a better word for it. Briefly, it surmised that Egypt's President Nasser wants to cool it in the Middle East because (a) he has suddenly realized that the Israelis have the atom bomb and have let it be known that if they are pushed to an extremely they will use it, and (b) he fears that the discovery of big oil sources in the North Sea will soon make western Europe independent of Arab oil.

Wifely Remarks We Can Do Without

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Wifely remarks that husbands get tired of hearing:
"The refrigerator is wearing out. We need a new one."
"It's getting so hot on top I think you ought to get a wig, Henry. A lot of men are wearing them today."
"Well, if I ever get married again, I certainly won't be for love. I've tried that, and it's for the birds."
"Certainly, I'm not so narrow-minded that I see anything wrong with a married man talking to a strange woman at a cocktail party, but did you have to spend the whole evening talking to her? You acted as if she had you hypnotized."
"Everything's getting cold. If you don't come to the table this very minute, I'm going to throw the whole meal out the window."
"The vacuum cleaner is broken. We need a new one."
"I tell you there is a mouse in this house, and I positively will not live in a house with a mouse."
"If they do something good, they're your kids; if they do

Applications OK'd For 4 New Banks

LANSING (AP) — Robert P. Briggs, Michigan commissioner of financial institutions, has approved applications of four banks to establish new branches. Included were applications of: First Commercial Savings Bank of Chassipole for a branch in Nikos Township; Northwestern State Bank of East Jordan for a branch in Boyne Falls; and Security Bank and Trust Co. of Sault Ste. Marie for a branch in that city.

any and all means to survive."

What Nasser must realize is that the Israelis, many of whom had relatives who perished in the gas chambers of Hitler's Germany, are not going to be deprived of the country which they have conquered out of the desert.

It is a sanctuary and a refuge which they did not have in the days of the death camps of Dachau and Buchenwald. Possession of their own nation has changed their character; instead of bowing meekly to the buffets of fate, which is the lot of all stateless people, they have developed a formidable ability to fight back. Moshe Dayan, the hero of the six-day war, is their symbol and image.

If extinction threatens as it threatened in Hitler's day, they will surely use whatever nuclear capacity they possess to pull their enemies down with them. Moshe Dayan may not have Samson's big head of hair (which supposedly gave great strength), but he is quite capable of pulling the whole Middle East edifice down if it should ever come to that.

The main trouble in the Middle East is that the Palestine Arab guerrillas are a technologically illiterate breed, and the Israelis and the Syrians are not much better. They may not appreciate what nuclear weapons might do. The guerrillas take their thinking from Mao Tse-tung, whose followers in Vietnam and Cambodia are used to dealing with the gentlemanly Americans who would never — no, never — use nuclear weapons again for fear of "world opinion."

Obviously Mao Tse-tung and his Southeast Asian disciples have copied the United States for what it is, a latter-day Rome that has lost any stomach for exercising the world power thrust upon it after World War II. We are paralyzed by "liberals" who are dominated by a death wish. But the Israelis, having no death wish, are paradoxically willing to die to protect their national heritage. They are not going unopposed to a passive Buchenwald destiny twice.

Nasser has presumably gotten the idea. Whether the guerrillas can be brought over is another story.

At the sixth table the bidding went the same way but South made seven no-trump! This extraordinary result was due to poor synchronization in the defense.

West led the jack of spades, a lead recommended with this combination in most textbooks and sometimes referred to as an interior sequence lead. East, who did not play the convention and assumed that the jack was West's highest spade, failed to play the king because he thought declarer had the A-Q. As a result, South made all the tricks.

At the seventh table, the bidding went in this odd fashion:

West South West North
Pass 1NT Pass 4

North-South were using a special bidding convention opposite an opening no-trump. Four diamonds was an artificial bid asking South for the size of his no-trump, that is, whether it was minimum, medium or maximum.

South, with a bare 16 points, showed his minimum values by making the cheapest bid possible, four hearts. Warned by the response that there was not much hope for a slam, North signed off with four no-trump.

West, under the impression that the opponents were on the verge of a slam, tried to salvage a possible overtrick by avoiding the spade lead altogether. In his place he chose the "safe" lead of a heart. This did not prove to be entirely safe, since South made six no-trump.

Education Funds For Clothes Up To States: Fairley

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal education money can be spent to clothe needy school children but it is up to the states to decide whether payments should go directly to parents, says an Education Department official.

Following a noisy two-hour session during which welfare rights representatives pressed their demands for direct payments, Richard L. Fairley said Tuesday the law allows funds for clothing under circumstances "where these clothes are needed."

But Fairley, acting director of the department's compensatory education division, added that federal officials "will leave the criteria up to the states" on the method of payment.

At issue is a move by a welfare rights group in Providence, R.I., for a clothing allowance of $48 per child for 3,000 children. The group wants such education aid funds to be made directly to the parents.

New Store Prices Give All Details

DETROIT (AP) — A Detroit supermarket chain has adopted a new pricing policy for some 3,000 packages and canned items aimed at telling customers exactly how much they are paying by the ounce, pound or quart.

With computers preparing the price tags, the chain's 57 supermarkets will post a new kind of price tag on the shelf under each display. In addition to the total package price, the tag will show the item's actual unit cost in ounces, pounds, quarts, etc.

Ann Lenders

Miffed Housewife Opens Fire On Scribe

Dear Ann Lenders: I used to think your column belonged on the comic page. Now I think someone ought to put a muzzle on you. Are you suffering from delusions of grandeur? Do you think you are God Almighty? How dare you take it upon yourself to advise people about matters that might have a serious bearing on their lives. Most doctors won't even prescribe for a common cold — and you, without the slightest hesitation, open up your big mouth on every subject under the sun.

I am so furious over your advice to the girl who had an abortion, I could wring your neck. You told her to TELL her fiancé about something that happened two years before they met. Why? Why? Why? Most abortions are illegal. The transactions are cash and no records exist.

I had an abortion 23 years ago. I've been happily married for 30 years and have four beautiful grandchildren. No one knows about my past because I was smart and kept quiet. Had I been dumb enough to take your advice, my life might have been a mess. — More Experienced Than You

Dear Mrs. You are indeed more experienced. I've never had an abortion. I agree your life might have been different had you taken my advice. It might also have been different had someone told your fiancé about your abortion — after you had married him. So, if it's all the same to you, I'll continue to open my big mouth and advise people to play it straight.

Dear Ann Lenders: Every morning my sister gets up at 6:00 a.m., takes her dinner most out of the freezer and leaves it in the sink to thaw so it will be ready for cooking when she returns from work at 4:30. Whenever I see it, I get sick. I'm afraid if someone doesn't get through to this disgusting, she'll poison the whole family.

Please let her straight. Or if I'm the one who needs to be set straight, tell me. — Green Around The Gills

Dear Gills: Leave meat at room temperature for ten and a half hours, especially pork and ground beef, is a risky business. The lady has been kinder than smart. She should have a talk with her butcher and learn better techniques for preparing meats on short notice.

Dear Ann Lenders: We lost our only son seven months ago. Ralph was 52 years old. He left a lovely wife and two darling children. Ralph and his wife moved into their own home three years ago. The $7,000 mortgage weighed heavily on my daughter-in-law's mind. I decided to give her the money to pay off the mortgage. When my son died, I received $10,000 from a life insurance policy he had taken out on his 21st birthday. He was unmarried then.

My daughter-in-law never asked for this money. Ann, I gave it to her because I felt the policy should have been signed over to her when they married.

The problem: My two daughters are nagging the life out of me. They feel they are entitled to $7,000 each. I am not a rich woman and have told them they will be remembered in my will. They want it now. What should I do? — Unhappy

Dear U.: Nothing. And I mean nothing. You don't owe your daughters a money gift. They ought to be ashamed of themselves.

People, Events Of Yesteryears

From the File of the Escanaba Daily Press

25 Years Ago
Members of the adult education program's art class, taught last winter by Mrs. Alice Powers, will hold a reunion at the Ludington Park yacht basin, weather permitting. Members are asked to come prepared to paint. Others interested in painting are also invited to attend.

William C. Averill Jr., Lansing, chairman of the Democratic state central committee, will make a tour of the Upper Peninsula, Gerald C. Cleary announced. Averill's itinerary calls for stops at Escanaba, Menominee and Iron Mountain. He will be accompanied here by Atty. Thurman Doyle of Menominee. He will be a guest of the Democratic county committee, county officers and friends at a luncheon to be held at the Delta Hotel.

30 Years Ago
Arrangements were completed whereby Rev. George R. Harris, of Cadillac, Mich., will preach both Sunday morning and evening at the Methodist Church of Gladstone during the absence of Rev. D. D. Nagle, the regular pastor.

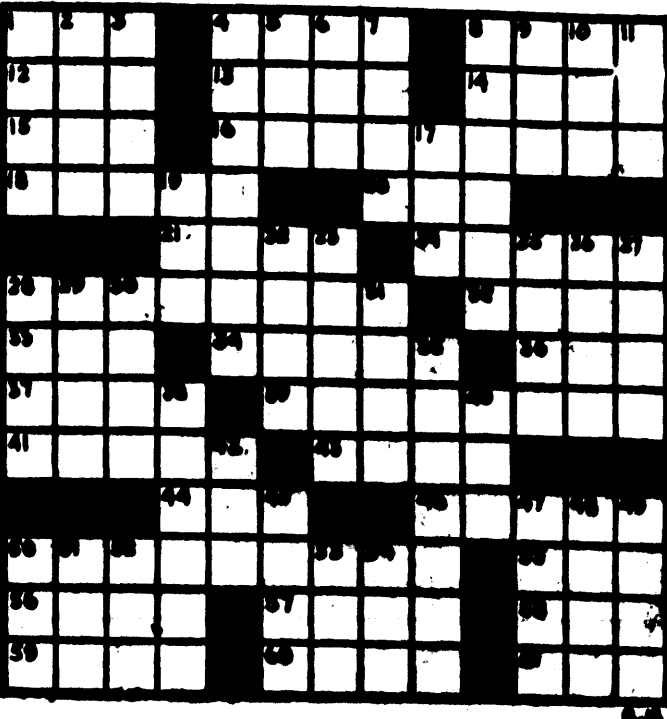

More than 100 Delta County farmers participated in the annual Cloverland "Round Up" at the Upper Peninsula Experiment Station, Chatham. The total attendance was estimated at between 2,500 and 3,000 and the program was pronounced one of the best ever presented at a similar event in this region.

Hurricanes are virtually nonexistent in the South Atlantic Ocean, meteorologists say, probably because the comparatively cold water of this region inhibits formation of the big storms.

The Israelis Would Use The Atom Bomb

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

This column made a couple of guesses the other day, or maybe deductions would be a better word for it. Briefly, it surmised that Egypt's President Nasser wants to cool it in the Middle East because (a) he has suddenly realized that the Israelis have the atom bomb and have let it be known that if they are pushed to an extremity they will use it, and (b) he fears that the discovery of big oil sources in the North Sea will soon make western Europe independent of Arab oil.

How shrewd the guesses are only time will tell. Nobody will give official confirmation to the bit about Israel having a nuclear capacity. But now comes Hanson Baldwin, former military editor of the New York Times, with a book, "Strategy for Tomorrow," which will be published by Harper and Row on August 19. I went to work with Baldwin for the Times some 44 years ago, on practically the same day, and I have never known him to make an unconsidered or untrue statement. The Times should never have retired him; its military reporting has trailed off badly since he left. Hanson Baldwin is still hard at work cultivating his own sources. Knowing his character, I'd trust his book as much as any Times story he ever wrote.

What he says about Israel and the bomb is this: "There should be no doubt about it, the Middle East is a powder keg, and the U.S. interests in the area are major. Israel is already the world's sixth atomic power; she has nuclear weapons, or the capability of assembling them quickly. She has rockets of sufficient range to reach from her borders to the major Arab capitals. And her peoples and her government possess the ruthlessness and the determination to use — in extremis — any and all means to survive."

What Nasser must realize is that the Israelis, many of whom had relatives who perished in the gas chambers of Hitler's Germany, are not going to be deprived of the country which they have conjured out of the desert.

It is a sanctuary and a refuge which they did not have in the days of the death camps of Dachau and Buchenwald. They are not going unprotestingly to a passive Buchenwald destiny twice.

Nasser has presumably gotten the idea. Whether the guerrillas can be brought over is another story.

Pass 4NT

North-South were using a special bidding convention opposite an opening notrump. Four diamonds was an artificial bid asking South for the size of his notrump, that is, whether it was minimum, medium or maximum.

South, with a bare 16 points, showed his minimum values by making the cheapest bid possible, four hearts. Warned by the response that there was not much hope for a slam, North signed off with four notrump.

West, under the impression that the opponents were on the verge of a slam, tried to salvage a possible overtrick by avoiding the spade lead altogether. In its place he chose the "safe" lead of a heart. This did not prove to be entirely safe, since South made six notrump.

Education Funds For Clothes Up To States: Fairley

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal education money can be spent to clothe needy school children but it is up to the states to decide whether payments should go directly to parents, says an Education Department official.

Following a noisy two-hour session during which welfare rights representatives pressed their demands for direct payments, Richard L. Fairley said Tuesday the law allows funds for clothing under circumstances "where these clothes are needed."

But Fairley, acting director of the department's compensatory education division, added that federal officials "will leave the criteria up to the states" on the method of payment.

At issue is a move by a welfare rights group in Providence, R.I., for a clothing allowance of $48 per child for 2,000 children. The group wants such education aid funds to be made directly to the parents.

New Store Prices Give All Details

DETROIT (AP) — A Detroit supermarket chain has adopted a new pricing policy for some 3,000 package and canned items aimed at telling customers exactly how much they are paying by the ounce, pound or quart.

With computers preparing the price tags, the chain's 27 supermarkets will post a new kind of price tag on the shelf under each display. In addition to the total package price, the tag will show the item's actual unit cost in ounces, pounds, quarts, etc.

"We believe customers have a right to be better informed so they can make quicker and better buying decisions," said Bernard Weisberg, Chatham president.

Ann Landers

Miffed Housewife Opens Fire On Scribe

Dear Ann Landers: I used to think your column belonged on the comic page. Now I think someone ought to put a muzzle on you. Are you suffering from delusions of grandeur? Do you think you are God Almighty? How dare you take it upon yourself to advise people about matters that might have a serious bearing on their lives. Most doctors won't even prescribe for a common cold — and you, without the slightest hesitation, open up your big mouth on every subject under the sun.

I am so furious over your advice to the girl who had an abortion, I could wring your neck. You told her to TELL her fiancé about something that happened two years before they met. Why? Why? Most abortions are illegal. The transactions are cash and no records exist.

I had an abortion 33 years ago. I've been happily married for 30 years and have four beautiful grandchildren. No one knows about my past because I was smart and kept quiet. Had I been dumb enough to take your advice, my life might have been a mess. — More Experienced Than You

Dear More: You are indeed more experienced. I've never had an abortion.

I agree your life might have been different had you taken my advice. It might also have been different had someone told your fiancé about your abortion — after you had married him. So, if it's all the same to you, I'll continue to open my big mouth and advise people to play it straight.

Dear Ann Landers: Every morning my sister gets up at 6:00 a.m., takes her dinner meat out of the freezer and leaves it in the sink to thaw so it will be ready for cooking when she returns from work at 4:30. Whenever I see it, I get sick. I'm afraid if someone doesn't get through to this dingaling, she'll poison the whole family.

Please set her straight. Or if I'm the one who needs to be set straight, tell me. — Green Around The Gills

Dear Gills: Leave meat at room temperature for ten and a half hours, especially pork and ground beef, is a risky business. The lady has been luckier than smart. She should have a talk with her butcher and learn better techniques for preparing meats on short notice.

Dear Ann Landers: We lost our only son seven months ago. Ralph was 32 years old. He left a lovely wife and two darling children. Ralph and his wife moved into their own home three years ago. The $7,000 mortgage weighed heavily on my daughter-in-law's mind. I decided to give her the money to pay off the mortgage. When my son died, I received $10,000 from a life insurance policy he had taken out on his 21st birthday. He was unmarried then.

My daughter-in-law never asked for this money, Ann. I gave it to her because I felt the policy should have been signed over to her when they married.

The problem: My two daughters are nagging the life out of me. They feel they are entitled to $7,000 each. I am not a rich woman and have told them they will be remembered in my will. They want it now. What should I do? — Unhappy

Dear U: Nothing. And I mean nothing. You don't owe your daughters a money gift. They ought to be ashamed of themselves.

25 Years Ago
Members of the adult education program's art class, taught last winter by Mrs. Alice Powers, will hold a reunion at the Ludington Park yacht basin, weather permitting. Members are asked to come prepared to paint. Others interested in painting are also invited to attend.

William C. Averill Jr., Lansing, chairman of the Democratic state central committee, will make a tour of the Upper Peninsula, Gerald C. Cleary announced. Averill's itinerary calls for stops at Escanaba, Menominee and Iron Mountain. He will be accompanied here by Atty. Thurman Doyle of Menominee. He will be a guest of the Democratic county committee, county officers and friends at a luncheon to be held at the Delta Hotel.

50 Years Ago
Arrangements were completed whereby Rev. George R. Harris, of Cadillac, Mich., will preach both Sunday morning and evening at the Methodist Church of Gladstone during the absence of Rev. D. D. Nagle, the regular pastor.

More than 100 Delta County farmers participated in the annual Cloverland "Round Up" at the Upper Peninsula Experiment Station, Chatham. The total attendance was estimated at between 2,500 and 3,000 and the program was pronounced one of the best ever presented at a similar event in this region.

Hurricanes are virtually nonexistent in the South Atlantic Ocean, meteorologists say, probably because the comparatively cold water of this region inhibits formation of the big storms.

Kelley To Seek Another Term, Support Levin

BY DON ROENSHILL
Penas Staff Writer

LANSING—Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley will announce Tuesday that he will go for another term and happily campaign for the ticket headed by State Sen. Sander M. Levin.

It will be four days before Democrats tie to Grand Rapids for their state nominating convention.

Kelley earlier tried to nurture some doubt that he would seek re-election by saying he might get out of politics all together and go back to practicing law.

It was learned that Kelley is planning a major news conference Tuesday and that he will make his announcement. He said it's more possible now that Levin can win the governorship.

"I think he (Levin) made a remarkable showing in the primary," Kelley said. "I think he surprised a lot of people with his popularity, especially outside the Detroit area."

Serving Ninth Year

Kelley, now serving his ninth year as attorney general, has never been close to anyone in government since his benefactor, former Gov. Swainson, was beaten in 1968 by George Romney.

He made a historic non-aggression pact with Romney and let it be known that he wouldn't run against him. Privately he felt, too, that Gov. Milliken would be unbeatable this year.

Now Kelley sees it all differently, since Levin easily outdistanced three rivals to take the Democratic nomination for governor against Milliken.

He points with Irish glee to the record of the Levin family in politics. Levin's cousin, Charles, won his State Appeals Court seat by whipping Milliken's choice for lieutenant governor, U. S. District Attorney James M. Brickley.

Levin's brother, Carl, won a seat on the Detroit city council last year and was the best vote-getter among the newcomers to that troubled body.

"There's a good possibility now that (Sander) Levin can win the governorship," Kelley said.

Split In GOP?

The primary election, Kelley said, showed a deep schism in the Republican party, the conservative split-off led by State Senator Robert J. Huber.

Huber on Detroit television the week after the primary said if Republicans do not draft a platform suitable to conservatives, they'll sit out the campaign.

Lenore Romney, the former governor's wife, narrowly defeated Huber for the Republican nomination for the United States Senate and is an underdog to Democratic Senator Philip A. Hart.

In Democratic eyes, that means Lenore a minus on the ticket, and places Milliken in the position of having to appeal to both the Huber conservatives and the new-traditionalist GOP moderates.

Kelley's analysis, of the Democratic state contains mostly pluses. There is Hart, unopposed in the primary going for his third term in Washington, his own game is statewide. Levin has momentum and there's hope for Democrats in the legislature.

Levin is resting at a lake near Brighton and won't get onto the campaign trail seriously until September.

On the state ticket, Democrats will have a scramble for the posts of lieutenant governor, secretary of state. But not for attorney general.

Kelley will make his announcement Tuesday.

Draftee Order For September Lowest In '70

LANSING (AP) — Michigan draft boards today were ordered to induct 400 men for service in the Army in September, the lowest call so far this year.

Previous draft calls this year were January, 742; February, 1,187; March, 800; April, 1,082; May, 790; June, 788; July, 721; August, 698.

Local boards were told by Col. Arthur Holmes, state selective service director, not to select men with random sequence numbers over 150 to fill the September draft. Previously, in July, the boards had been authorized to call men with numbers up to 150.

Holmes said lowering of the maximum number was made possible by prompt reclassification actions by local boards.

The manpower pool was swelled by termination of temporary postponements, the reclassification of graduating college students and termination of occupational deferments.

Local boards also were told to order up for induction any men who previously had failed to report for physical examinations.

Under a recent order, such men who failed to report will be turned over to the justice department for punitive action.

A total of 3,971 men were ordered to report for physical examinations in September to determine their suitability for induction.

The September call for the Upper Peninsula by local boards: Alger 0; Baraga 0; Chippewa 2; Delta 3; Dickinson 0; Gogebic 4; Houghton 4; Iron 1; Keweenaw 0; Luce 1; Marquette 4; Menominee 8; Ontonagon 5; Mackinac 9; Schoolcraft 9.

Personal Income Shows Increase

WASHINGTON (AP) — Personal income rebounded in July to a $3.6-billion gain, the Commerce Department reported today.

Income for the month was at a seasonally adjusted annual rate of $91.8 billion. The month's gain compared with a decline of $1.5 billion in June when the effects of the retroactive federal pay raise are included, and a $2.3-billion increase with the pay raise excluded.

The department reported that private sector wages and salaries increased by $1.5 billion, the same as in June. It said declining employment was more than offset by higher pay rates and increases in working hours.

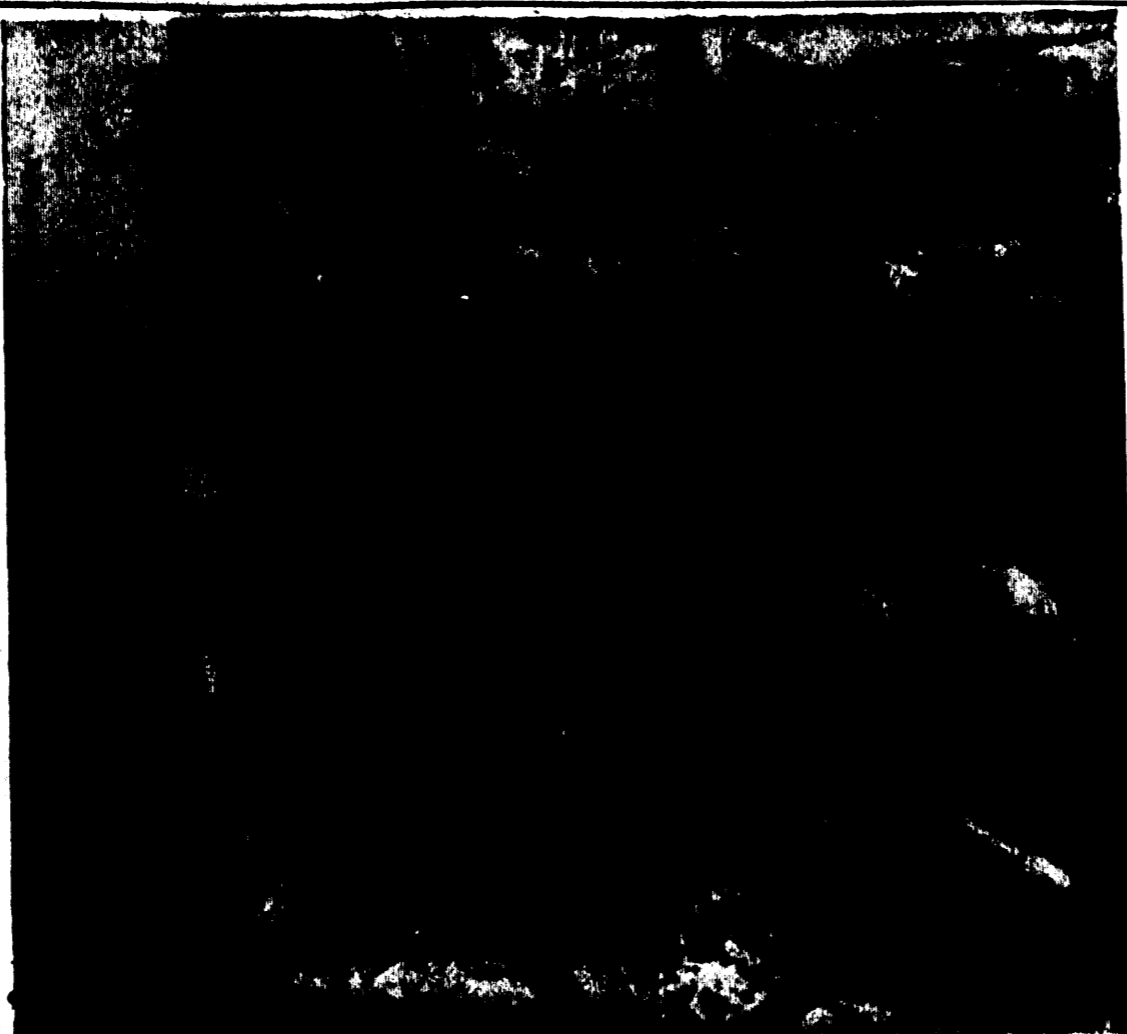

For the first seven months of this year, personal income reached a seasonally adjusted annual rate of $788 billion. The department said this was an increase of $87 billion, or 8 percent, from the corresponding period of last year.

Rock Concerts Banned In Park

The sounds of rock music from the Karas Memorial Bandshell in Ludington Park apparently have been silenced.

City Manager George Harvey reported today that a directive has been issued "that no more permits will be approved for such performances."

The city had approved a permit for a rock concert at the bandshell staged on Monday, Aug. 3.

Harvey said the use of the bandshell by the public has been discouraged since its construction and that over the years many groups have been given permission to use the bandshell, but the rock concert "resulted in obscenities and profanities and other incidents that I do not believe are in keeping with the intent of public places."

The mini-rockfest attracted an estimated 50 to 100 teenagers to the park to hear music by local rock musicians.

Police said complaints were received about the noise and profane language over speaker systems. The concert lasted from late in the afternoon until about 8 p. m.

Reopening Set For Ford Museum

DEARBORN (AP) — Six days after a fire swept through an acre of exhibits, the main hall of Henry Ford Museum will reopen its doors Saturday.

The fire destroyed six of the craft shops in the "Street of Shops" area and museum directors have yet to decide if these will be rebuilt as they were, or whether a new type of craft shop will be created.

Greenfield Village's main Industrial Arts Hall, where the fire occurred, covers more than eight acres. Cleanup crews are working to rid the building of debris left by the fire and polishing the oakwork floors which had been smudged by smoke and soot.

The exact cause of the fire has not been determined, but a museum spokesman said a cigarette may have been carelessly thrown into one of the craft shops. A damage estimate is not expected for several weeks.

Death Claims Mrs. LaComb

Mrs. Napoleon (Florence A.) LaComb, 65, of 205 N. 14th St. died at 8:30 p. m. Wednesday at St. Francis Hospital. She was born Dec. 11, 1904 in Escanaba.

She is survived by her husband; two sons, Raymond J. of Wells and Robert E. of Green Bay; one daughter, Mrs. Allan (Marlene) Rivard of Escanaba; five grandchildren; and one sister, Mrs. Frida Larson of Danforth.

Friends may call at the Anderson Funeral Home from 4 to 8 p. m. today and liturgical prayers will be recited at 8 p. m. Funeral services will be conducted at 11 a. m. Friday at St. Anne's Church with the Rev. Lawrence Monville officiating. Burial will be in Lakeview Cemetery.

Briefly Told

Reservations for the reunion of the Class of 1945 of St. Joseph's High School must be in by Tuesday, Aug. 18. They should be sent to Noah Marcoe Jr., 1410 N. 10th St. The reunion will be held Saturday, Aug. 22.

State Police reported that Richard Stede, 28, 1623 Lake Shore Drive, Gladstone, suffered minor injuries when a car which he was driving went off the Dags River Road, struck a tree and then rolled. The incident occurred Wednesday night at 10:30. Stede sought his own treatment, officers said.

Officials Seeking Plans To Reduce Boxcar Shortage

WASHINGTON (AP) — Frustrated federal officials and the railroad industry are searching for ways to eliminate the annual boxcar shortage when the peak shipping season begins next month.

A poll of shippers indicates no shortage of boxcars now but no one is betting the trend will continue.

Three rail cars go east for each one that moves west, and the problem shows up when the Oregon lumberman, the Kansas wheat grower and the New England utility demand service at the same time.

The Interstate Commerce Commission has drawn a new schedule of penalties for use against shippers who allow cars to stand idle. This has worked only partially in the past, and the ICC has had to send strings of empty cars westward to balance up things.

Several alternatives have been proposed but most would cost the taxpayer.

Market Hits 'Sure' Decline

NEW YORK (AP) — After slumbering most of the week the stock market moved into a slow but sure decline today in quiet trading.

At noon the Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks dropped 2.58 points to 768.31.

Declines steadily widened their lead over advances to almost 2 to 1 on the New York Stock Exchange.

Analysts admitted they found the market's behavior perplexing. The usually slow trading in August has been deepened this year by investor uncertainty and hesitancy to act in the face of the jumbled economic and international pictures.

Whatever decisive course the market takes, probably will have to await the fall, they said. The market could be base building for a rally in the fall, or it could be preparing for another downward plunge signifying that the long bear market is not yet over, they added.

Oil, rails, chemicals, and rubber issues were off. Aircrafts were unchanged. All other stock categories were mixed.

At noon the Associated Press 60-stock average was off 0.8 at 253.2, with industrials off 1.4, rails off 0.5, and utilities unchanged.

Milliken Raps Drug Use At Rock Festivals

LANSING (AP) — Gov. William Milliken said today that he considered rock festivals "a great idea — without drugs."

But, the governor said, the state must do everything possible to stop drug traffic and "if that means no more rock festivals — so be it."

Milliken told a news conference that he was "appalled" and "shocked" by reports of open drug sales at the recent Goose Lake Rock Festival near Jackson.

The governor said he is awaiting a personal report from Col. Frederick Davis, director of the Michigan State Police, before making any decision on what to do about any future rock festivals in Michigan.

"There may be some legislative approach to the whole problem," Milliken said, but he declined to specify what those approaches may be, pending further information from Davis.

Milliken said also that he would not make any "wild and open charges" about goings-on at Goose Lake.

He said that a bulletin issued by the park management, detailing medical services available during the festival for those who were ill or suffering from a "bad trip", seemed a "pretty open acknowledgement" that there would be drugs at the festival and said the fact that uniformed State Police were not inside the private park "doesn't mean there were no State Police inside."

If uniformed police had gone into the park, the governor added, "it could have developed into an inflamed situation." Milliken said Davis had indicated that there could have been "a lot of bloodshed" in such a case.

"My emphasis is not on stopping rock festivals," Milliken declared. "My emphasis is on stopping drugs."

John Loritz Taken By Death

John W. Loritz, 72, of Rte. 1 Gladstone died at 11 a. m. Wednesday at the Pinecrest Medical Care Facility in Powers following a lengthy illness.

He was born Aug. 18, 1898 in Escanaba and had lived in this area all his life. Mr. Loritz was employed by the Escanaba Paper Co. for 30 years, retiring in 1944. He was a member of St. Anthony's Church. His wife Vertha preceded him in death in 1942.

He is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Harold (Zephine) Carley of Nahma Junction, Mrs. Lawrence (Dorothy) Deno of Danforth and Mrs. Jack (Ethel) Way of Wells; three sisters, Mrs. Rose Peterson and Mrs. Frances Johnson of Escanaba and Mrs. Paul (Martine) Sarasin of Ann Arbor; 28 grandchildren and eight grandchildren.

Friends may call at the Allo Funeral Home from 4 to 8:30 p. m. today and parish prayers will be recited at 8 p. m. Funeral services will be conducted at 11 a. m. Friday at St. Anthony's Church with the Rev. Norbert Freuburger officiating. Burial will be in Holy Cross Cemetery.

Black Bass Used To Test Mercury

SARNIA, Ont. (AP) — Black bass from unpolluted areas of Lake Huron are being used to test for mercury intake and discharge in fish in the Sarnia area, a spokesman for the Ontario Water Resources Commission said Wednesday.

The mercury-free fish are being located in southern Lake Huron waters in cages so absorption of mercury can be charted by commission biologists, Carl Schenk, supervisor of the biology branch of the commission said.

He said while the purpose of the program is to enable scientists to determine how long it would take the mercury poisoning to leave the fish, the commission now believes that "the only successful solution lies with the removal of the mercury source from the waters."

Schools To Offer Adult Program

POWERS — Plans are being made for the offering of adult classes in the communities involved in the Community School Program for the 1970-71 school year, Clifford M. Luft, Community School director reported today.

Classes will be offered in each community where there are enough adults interested in taking a particular class, he said.

Courses will be offered for adults seeking work toward a high school diploma, adults who want to take classes even though they have already received a high school diploma, and Basic Education classes for adults who want to further develop or refresh their educational background.

Classes will be conducted from 7 to 10 p. m. and the first class in each course will be held during the week of Sept. 21, Luft announced.

Adults interested in taking night classes should call or stop at the Community School office in Powers (located in the Spalding Township Hall) phone: 497-5507, for more information. Pre-registration forms are available.

The final list of courses to be offered and the days and places for the classes will be determined after pre-registration takes place.

Adult classes are open to all Michigan residents.

Vietnam War Veterans may qualify for G. I. Bill benefits for participating in the adult classes in working toward a high school diploma.

Information will be provided later this fall on enrichment classes such as knitting, sewing, bridge, etc., to be offered as part of the Community School Program.

Troops Prevent Irish Clashes

LONDON (AP) — Northern Ireland (AP) — Roman Catholics in Londonderry battled British troops for four hours early today, but the troops and barricades of barbed wire prevented a repetition of last year's bloody Aug. 12 religious warfare.

The rioting in Londonderry's Bogside district erupted just before midnight, after a day of Protestant parades in other parts of the city celebrating a 17th century Protestant victory over the Catholics.

Militant Catholics who had been penned in the Bogside all day opened up on the soldiers just before midnight with barrages of rocks, bottles and gasoline bombs.

Crouching behind riot shields, the troops fired about 50 rounds of their latest anti-riot weapons — six-inch rubber bullets intended to cripple the legs. They scattered the rioters for only a brief time. The rioters regrouped for another round, and the soldiers responded with volleys of tear gas, filling the winding streets with clouds of choking smoke.

Three soldiers and one civilian were reported injured. Casualties among the rioters were not known. The Catholics have their own first aid stations deep inside their district.

The riot was a backlash reaction to the parade through Londonderry Tuesday of more than 6,000 Protestant men who marched in bowler hats and gaudy sashes to drum and life commemorating the lifting of a Catholic siege of Londonderry in 1690.

Rock Schools Open Sept. 8

ROCK — Superintendent George Weingartner has announced that the Rock Public Schools will open for the fall term on Tuesday, Sept. 8. Buses will run on schedule in the morning and abbreviated sessions will be held.

The school calendar for the 1970-71 school year is as follows: Nov. 26-27, Thanksgiving vacation; Dec. 24, Christmas vacation; Jan. 2, school reopens; April 8-12, Easter vacation; May 31, Memorial Day holiday; June 4, classes dismissed.

The Rock Safety Patrol students are asked to report to the school on Tuesday, Aug. 18, before 9:30 a. m., for transportation to the U. P. State Fair. This bus will return to the school at approximately 5:30 p. m.

Lahaineluna High School on the island of Maui is the oldest American school west of the Rockies. Founded in 1831, it drew students from California families who reasoned that it was safer to send their children across 2,400 miles of open Pacific than through the wilds of North America to Eastern schools, according to the National Geographic Society's book "Hawaii."

Kelley earlier tried to nurture some doubt that he would seek re-election by saying he might get out of politics all together and go back to practicing law.

It was learned that Kelley is planning a major news conference Tuesday and that he will make his announcement. He said it's more possible now that Levin can win the governorship.

"I think he (Levin) made a remarkable showing in the primary," Kelley said. "I think he surprised a lot of people with his popularity, especially outside the Detroit area."

Serving Ninth Year

Kelley, now serving his ninth year as attorney general, has never been close to anyone in government since his benefactor, former Gov. Swainson, was beaten in 1962 by George Romney.

He made a historic non-aggression pact with Romney and let it be known that he wouldn't run against him. Privately he felt, too, that Gov. Milliken would be unbeatable this year.

Now Kelley sees it all differently, since Levin easily outdistanced three rivals to take the Democratic nomination for governor against Milliken.

He points with Irish glee to the record of the Levin family in politics. Levin's cousin, Charles, won his State Appeals Court seat by whipping Milliken's choice for lieutenant governor, U. S. District Attorney James M. Brickley.

Levin's brother, Carl, won a seat on the Detroit city council last year and was the best vote-getter among the newcomers to that troubled body.

"There's a good possibility now that (Sander) Levin can win the governorship," Kelley said.

Split In GOP?

The primary election, Kelley said, showed a deep schism in the Republican party, the conservative split-off led by State Senator Robert J. Huber.

Huber on Detroit television the week after the primary said if Republicans do not draft a platform suitable to conservatives, they'll sit out the campaign.

Lenore Romney, the former governor's wife, narrowly defeated Huber for the Republican nomination for the United States Senate and is an underdog to Democratic Senator Philip A. Hart.

In Democratic eyes, that makes Lenore a minus on the ticket, and places Milliken in the position of having to appeal to both the Huber conservatives and the now-traditional GOP moderates.

Kelley's analysis, of the Democratic slate contains mostly pluses. There is Hart, unopposed in the primary going for his third term in Washington, his own name is statewide, Levin has momentum and there's hope for Democrats in the legislature.

Levin is resting at a lake near Brighton and won't get onto the campaign trail seriously until September.

On the state ticket, Democrats will have a scramble for the posts of lieutenant governor, secretary of state. But not for attorney general.

Kelley will make his announcement Tuesday.

Draftee Order For September Lowest In '70

LANSING (AP) — Michigan draft boards today were ordered to induct 400 men for service in the Army in September, the lowest call so far this year.

Previous draft calls this year were January, 742; February, 1,127; March, 800; April, 1,082; May, 760; June, 768; July, 731; August, 493.

Local boards were told by Col. Arthur Holmes, state selective service director, not to select men with random sequence numbers over 150 to fill the September draft. Previously, in July, the boards had been authorized to call men with numbers up to 190.

Holmes said lowering of the maximum number was made possible by prompt reclassification actions by local boards.

The manpower pool was swelled by termination of temporary postponements, the reclassification of graduating college students and termination of occupational deferments.

Local boards also were told to order up for induction any men who previously had failed to report for physical examinations.

Under a recent order, such men who failed to report will be turned over to the justice department for punitive action.

A total of 3,971 men were ordered to report for physical examinations in September to determine their suitability for induction.

The September call for the Upper Peninsula by local boards:

Alger 0; Baraga 0; Chippewa 2; Delta 3; Dickinson 0; Gogebic 4; Houghton 4; Iron 1; Keweenaw 0; Luce 1; Marquette 4; Menominee 6; Ontonagon 5; Mackinac 0; Schoolcraft 0.

Personal Income Shows Increase

WASHINGTON (AP) — Personal income rebounded in July to a $3.6-billion gain, the Commerce Department reported today.

Income for the month was at a seasonally adjusted annual rate of $801.8 billion. The month's gain compared with a decline of $1.5 billion in June when the effects of the retroactive federal pay raise are included, and a $2.3-billion increase with the pay raise excluded.

The department reported that private sector wages and salaries increased by $1.5 billion, the same as in June. It said declining employment was more than offset by higher pay rates and increases in working hours.

For the first seven months of this year, personal income reached a seasonally adjusted annual rate of $793 billion. The department said this was an increase of $57 billion, or 8 percent, from the corresponding period of last year.

Rock Concerts Banned In Park

The sounds of rock music from the Karas Memorial Bandshell in Ludington Park apparently have been silenced.

City Manager George Harvey reported today that a directive has been issued "that no more permits will be approved for such performances."

The city had approved a permit for a rock concert at the bandshell staged on Monday, Aug. 3.

Harvey said the use of the bandshell by the public has been encouraged since its construction and that over the years many groups have been given permission to use the bandshell, but the rock concert "resulted in obscenities and profanities and other incidents that I do not believe are in keeping with the intent of public places."

The mini-rockfest attracted an estimated 50 to 100 teenagers to the park to hear music by local rock musicians.

Police said complaints were received about the noise and profane language over speaker systems. The concert lasted from late in the afternoon until about 8 p. m.

Briefly Told

Reservations for the reunion of the Class of 1945 of St. Joseph's High School must be in by Tuesday, Aug. 18. They should be sent to Noah Marcoe Jr., 1416 N. 16th St. The reunion will be held Saturday, Aug. 22.

State Police reported that Richard Stade, 38, 1628 Lake Shore Drive, Gladstone, suffered minor injuries when a car which he was driving went off the Days River Road, struck a tree and then rolled. The incident occurred Wednesday night at 10:30. Stade sought his own treatment, officers said.

Reopening Set For Ford Museum

DEARBORN (AP)—Six days after a fire swept through an acre of exhibits, the main hall of Henry Ford Museum will reopen its doors Saturday.

The fire destroyed six of the craft shops in the "Street of Shops" area and museum directors have yet to decide if these will be rebuilt as they were, or whether a new type of craft shop will be created.

Greenfield Village's main Industrial Arts Hall, where the fire occurred, covers more than eight acres. Cleanup crews are working to rid the building of debris left by the fire and polishing the teakwood floors which had been smudged by smoke and soot.

The exact cause of the fire has not been determined, but a museum spokesman said a cigarette may have been carelessly thrown into one of the craft shops. A damage estimate is not expected for several weeks.

Death Claims Mrs. LaComb

Mrs. Napoleon (Florence A.) LaComb, 65, of 202 N. 14th St. died at 8:30 p. m. Wednesday at St. Francis Hospital. She was born Dec. 11, 1904 in Escanaba.

She is survived by her husband; two sons, Raymond J. of Wells and Robert E. of Green Bay; one daughter, Mrs. Allan (Marlene) Rivard of Escanaba; five grandchildren and one sister, Mrs. Frida Larson of Danforth.

Friends may call at the Anderson Funeral Home from 4 to 9 p. m. today and liturgical prayers will be recited at 8 p. m. Funeral services will be conducted at 10 a. m. Friday at St. Anne's Church with the Rev. Lawrence Monville officiating. Burial will be in Lakeview Cemetery.

Officials Seeking Plans To Reduce Boxcar Shortage

WASHINGTON (AP) — Frustrated federal officials and the railroad industry are searching for ways to eliminate the annual boxcar shortage when the peak shipping season begins next month.

A poll of shippers indicates no shortage of boxcars now but no one is betting the trend will continue.

Three rail cars go east for each one that moves west, and the problem shows up when the Oregon lumberman, the Kansas wheat grower and the New England utility demand service at the same time.

The Interstate Commerce Commission has drawn a new schedule of penalties for use against shippers who allow cars to stand idle. This has worked only partially in the past, and the ICC has had to send strings of empty cars westward to balance up things.

Several alternatives have been proposed but most would cost the taxpayer.

John Loritz Taken By Death

John W. Loritz, 72, of Rte. 1 Gladstone died at 11 a. m. Wednesday at the Pinecrest Medical Care Facility in Powers following a lengthy illness.

He was born Aug. 18, 1898 in Escanaba and had lived in this area all his life. Mr. Loritz was employed by the Escanaba Paper Co. for 20 years, retiring in 1964. He was a member of St. Anthony's Church. His wife Vertha preceded him in death in 1962.

He is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Harold (Zephine) Carley of Nahma Junction, Mrs. Lawrence (Dorothy) Deno of Danforth and Mrs. Jack (Ethel) Way of Wells; three sisters, Mrs. Rose Peterson and Mrs. Frances Johnson of Escanaba and Mrs. Paul (Martina) Sarasin of Ann Arbor; 23 grandchildren and eight grandchildren.

Friends may call at the Allo Funeral Home from 4 to 9:30 p. m. today and parish prayers will be recited at 8 p. m. Funeral services will be conducted at 11 a. m. Friday at St. Anthony's Church with the Rev. Norbert Freiburgher officiating. Burial will be in Holy Cross Cemetery.

Market Hits 'Sure' Decline

NEW YORK (AP) — After slumbering most of the week the stock market moved into a slow but sure decline today in quiet trading.

At noon the Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks dropped 2.83 points to 708.31.

Declines steadily widened their lead over advances to almost 2 to 1 on the New York Stock Exchange.

Analysts admitted they found the market's behavior perplexing. The usually slow trading in August has been deepened this year by investor uncertainty and hesitancy to act in the face of the jumbled economic and international pictures.

Whatever decisive course the market takes, probably will have to await the fall, they said. The market could be base building for a rally in the fall, or it could be preparing for another downward plunge signifying that the long bear market is not yet over, they added.

Oils, rails, chemicals, and rubber issues were off. Aircrafts were unchanged. All other stock categories were mixed.

At noon the Associated Press 60-stock average was off 0.8 at 235.2, with industrials off 1.4, rails off 0.5, and utilities unchanged.

Milliken Raps Drug Use At Rock Festivals

LANSING (AP) — Gov. William Milliken said today that he considered rock festivals "a great idea — without drugs."

But, the governor said, the state must do everything possible to stop drug traffic and "if that means no more rock festivals—so be it."

Milliken told a news conference that he was "appalled" and "shocked" by reports of open drug sales at the recent Goose Lake Rock Festival near Jackson.

The governor said he is awaiting a personal report from Col. Fredrick Davids, director of the Michigan State Police, before making any decision on what to do about any future rock festivals in Michigan.

"There may be some legislative approach to the whole problem," Milliken said, but he declined to specify what those approaches may be, pending further information from Davids.

Milliken said also that he would not make any "wild and open charges" about goings-on at Goose Lake.

He said that a bulletin issued by the park management, detailing medical services available during the festival for those who were ill or suffering from a "bad trip", seemed a "pretty open acknowledgment" that there would be drugs at the festival and said the fact that uniformed State Police were not inside the private park "doesn't mean there were no State Police inside."

If uniformed police had gone into the park, the governor added, "it could have developed into an inflamed situation." Milliken said Davids had indicated that there could have been "a lot of bloodshed" in such a case.

"My emphasis is not on stopping rock festivals," Milliken declared. "My emphasis is on stopping drugs."

Black Bass Used To Test Mercury

SARNIA, Ont. (AP) — Black bass from unpolluted areas of Lake Huron are being used to test for mercury intake and discharge in fish in the Sarnia area, a spokesman for the Ontario Water Resources Commission said Wednesday.

The mercury-free fish are being located in southern Lake Huron waters in cages so absorption of mercury can be charted by commission biologists, Carl Schenk, supervisor of the biology branch of the commission said.

He said while the purpose of the program is to enable scientists to determine how long it would take the mercury poisoning to leave the fish, the commission now believes that "the only successful solution lies with the removal of the mercury source from the waters."

Schools To Offer Adult Program

POWERS—Plans are being made for the offering of adult classes in the communities involved in the Community School Program for the 1970-71 school year, Clifford M. Luft, Community School director reported today.

Classes will be offered in each community where there are enough adults interested in taking a particular class, he said.

Courses will be offered for adults seeking work toward a high school diploma, adults who want to take classes even though they have already received a high school diploma, and Basic Education classes for adults who want to further develop or refresh their educational background.

Classes will be conducted from 7 to 10 p. m. and the first class in each course will be held during the week of Sept. 21, Luft announced.

Adults interested in night classes should call or stop at the Community School office in Powers (located in the Spalding Township Hall) phone: 497-5507, for more information. Pre - registration forms are available.

The final list of courses to be offered and the days and places for the classes will be determined after pre-registration takes place.

Adult classes are open to all Michigan residents.

Vietnam War Veterans may qualify for G. I. Bill benefits for participating in the adult classes in working toward a high school diploma.

Information will be provided later this fall on enrichment classes such as knitting, sewing, bridge, etc., to be offered as part of the Community School Program.

Rock Schools Open Sept. 8

ROCK — Superintendent George Weingartner has announced that the Rock Public Schools will open for the fall term on Tuesday, Sept. 8. Buses will run on schedule in the morning and abbreviated sessions will be held.

The school calendar for the 1970-71 school year is as follows: Nov. 26-27, Thanksgiving vacation; Dec. 24, Christmas vacation begins; Jan. 4, school reopens; April 9-12, Easter vacation; May 31, Memorial Day holiday; June 4, classes dismissed.

The Rock Safety Patrol students are asked to report to the school on Tuesday, Aug. 18, before 9:30 a. m., for transportation to the U. P. State Fair. The bus will return to the school at approximately 5:30 p. m.

Lahainaluna High School on the island of Maui is the oldest American school west of the Rockies. Founded in 1831, it drew students from California families who reasoned that it was safer to send their children across 2,400 miles of open Pacific than through the wilds of North America to Eastern schools, according to the National Geographic Society's book "Hawaii."

Home Economics Department Is Popular At Fair

A Fair isn't all cows, horses and chickens. To a great majority of homemakers, it's a chance to exhibit their talents in the fields of canning, sewing, knitting and baking. And most times, the winning of a ribbon means more than taking home a premium check.

Most popular is the needlework department at the U. P. State Fair, with entries in such classes as embroidery, crocheting, tatting, knitted work and machine sewing. Rugs and household furnishings are also seen in increasing numbers, as are handwoven articles.

This department also features a section for exhibitors 65 years of age and over.

Even though home freezing has provided many women the convenience of "food at hand," there is still great satisfaction in seeing row upon row of jars filled with fruits and vegetables. Many women can foods just because they like to.

Competition is keen in the baking section of the home economics department, also. Breads, cakes, cookies, pies and candies vie for honors and often a family recipe has won the exhibitor a first place award. Entries for the home economics department should be brought to the Fair Sunday and Monday, Aug. 16 and 17.

Tate Murder Trial Turning Into Joke?

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Linda Kasabian has been asked a string of questions that a lawyer says were written by the three women defendants in the Sharon Tate murder trial.

The questions were posed by Ronald Hughes, the fourth and last defense attorney to cross-examine the state's key witness. The questions included: "Are you in such a state of mind you could sit on a rock for the rest of your life and be happy? ... Is God real? ... What do you think of the defendants? ... Do you accept your guilt?"

The 21-year-old mother of two did not have to answer most of the questions, however, because prosecution objections to them were sustained.

Later she burst into laughter for the first time in 12 days on the stand when Hughes asked her about a substance that she said she thought was cocaine.

Hughes said the questions he asked before the laughter incident were framed for him by defendants Susan Atkins, 21, Patricia Krenwinkel, 28, and Leslie Van Houten, 26, who are on trial with Charles Manson on murder charges.

The girls started as their questions were asked, and just before court recessed Wednesday they were observed thumbing through transcripts of the day's testimony, presumably reading their own questions.

"The girls worked on some questions they wanted to ask and they gave them to me over the lunch hour," said Hughes, who is handling the first case. "I asked all of their questions; now I'm asking my own."

Quits of laughter swept the courtroom at one point as Hughes produced a small plastic bag filled with a green leafy substance. The judge hastily called a bench conference. Then Hughes handed the bag to Mrs. Kasabian.

She looked puzzled and said, "It looks like really refined marijuana with a lot of stems." Hughes asked her to smell the substance, and she burst into laughter, exclaiming, "No, I believe it's candy."

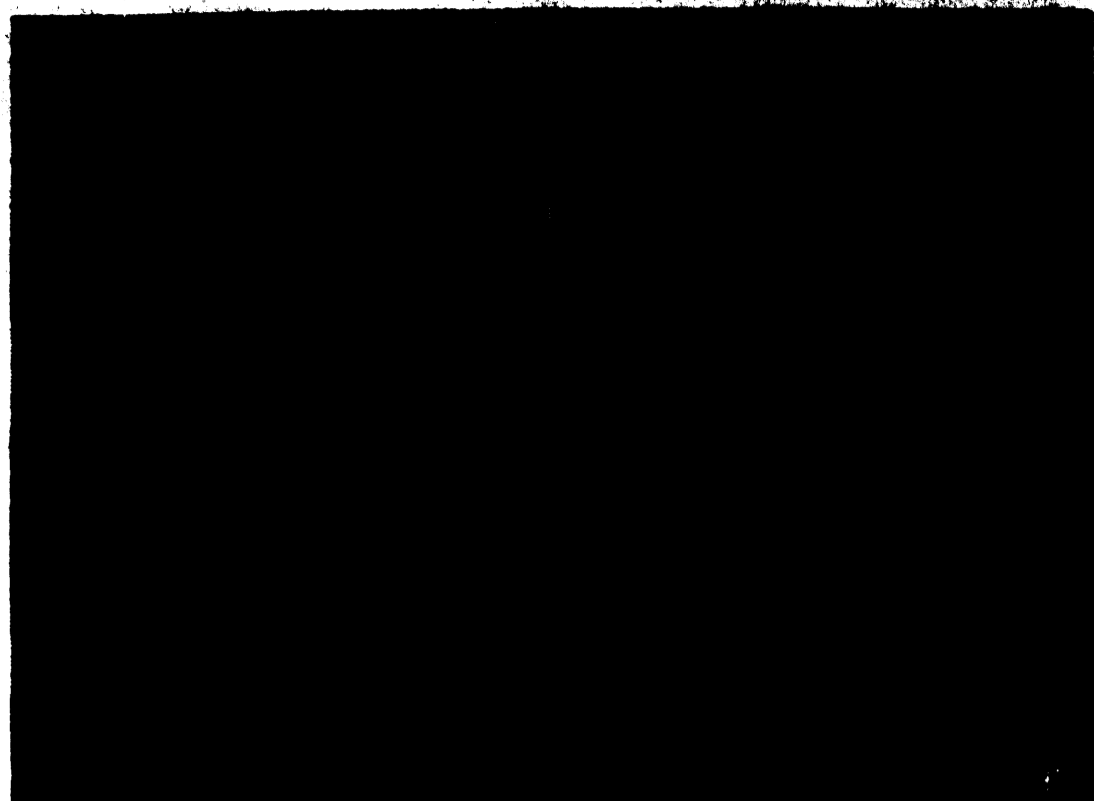

Hughes didn't say why he gave it to the witness.

All of Hughes' questions related to drugs. He went through long lists of names, asking Mrs. Kasabian which ones she had taken.

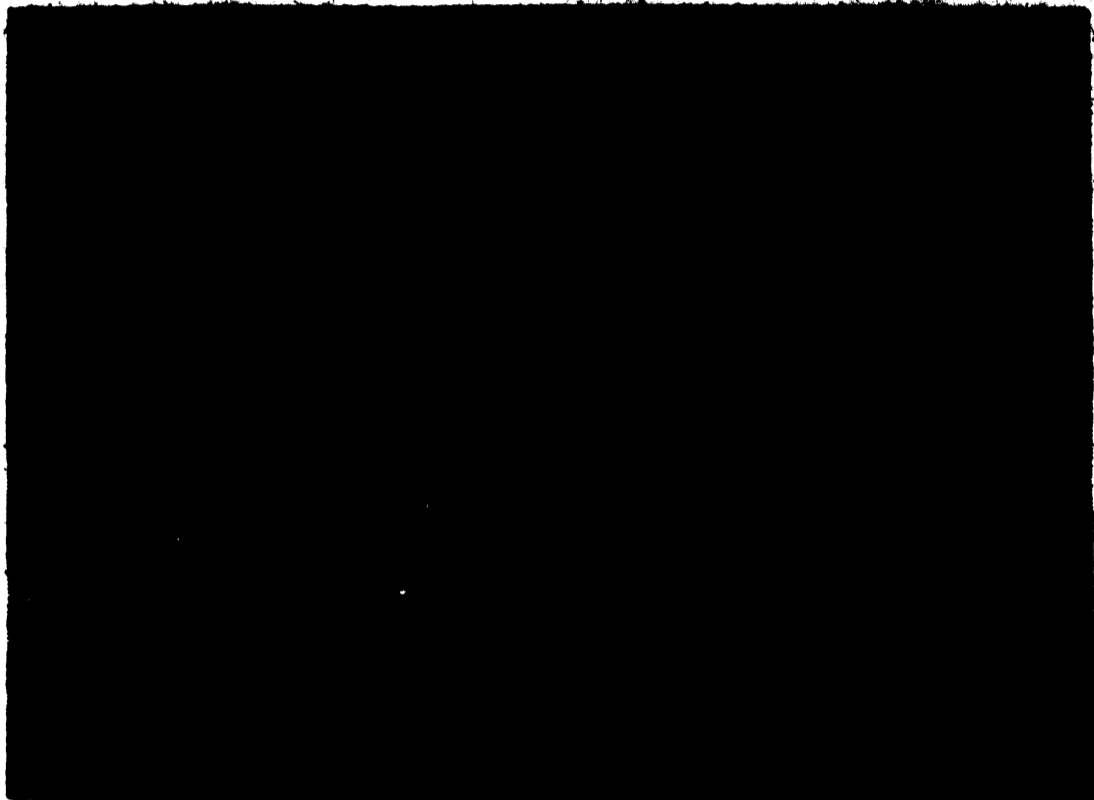

She said she had tried marijuana, LSD, THC, methadone, mescaline, psycybin, morning glory seeds, amyl nitrate, the cough syrup Roudier. Mrs. Kasabian said in direct testimony that she experimented with hallucinogenic drugs while living in a series of hippie-type communes. However, she has denied that she was on drugs during the week in August 1969 when Miss Tate and six others were slain.

Mrs. Kasabian has been granted immunity from prosecution in the slayings for telling her story. She says she later learned Manson ordered several followers—including the three women—on the killing mission.

Lightning generated by storms around the world strikes the earth 100 times each second.

The young people posed beside their plane on arrival in Cancun, Nov. 11, 1969.

THIS CRUMPLED FUSELAGE is part of the wreckage of the plane in which 40 American high schoolers were killed at Cancun, Peru. The crash also killed 52 other persons, two of them on the ground.

John Collins Case Summations Due

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — With the testimony of 37 witnesses written into the record over 37 days, the John Norman Collins murder trial turned today toward final summations of the defense and prosecution cases.

But the summations were not scheduled for completion until late in the day so that one of Michigan's most highly publicized murder trials will not go to the jury before Friday.

This morning was devoted to private conferences among Circuit Judge John Collins and the attorneys to determine what instructions the judge will give the jurors Friday.

Testimony Completed
Testimony was completed Wednesday without the 29-year-old Collins taking the witness stand to describe his activities on July 26, 1968—the day the case he is accused of killing disappeared.

The youth's attorneys considered allowing him to testify, but asked Judge Collins to impose restrictions which would have limited his testimony to little more than an account of his whereabouts the day Karen Sue Beltsman vanished.

None of the attorneys would discuss just what happened. Apparently though, the judge either could not or would not agree to imposing restrictions before hearing the questions the prosecution would ask Collins.

Whatever Collins' ruling was, it was given only to the attorneys and never entered into the court record.

Defense Case Ended
After more than an hour of conferences with the judge Wednesday, Neil Pink, the younger of the two defense lawyers, announced that the defense case was complete.

Prosecutor William Delhey then called three witnesses to rebut portions of the defense testimony that he, too, had presented his last witness.

The trial, which the judge says is the longest in his experience, required six weeks to select a jury. Once testimony began July 26, the prosecutions presented a total of 48 witnesses.

They included several persons who said they saw Collins in the general area where Miss Beltsman, an 18-year-old Eastern Michigan University freshman from Grand Rapids, was last seen alive.

Two women at a wig shop in nearby Ypsilanti swore that it was Collins who operated the motorcycle upon which the girl rode away from their shop that day.

Witnesses Testify
Other witnesses testified about evidence found in the basement at the Ypsilanti home of Collins' uncle, State Police Sgt. David Lott. The state contends the girl was killed in that cellar while the family was on vacation and while Collins had a key to the house.

Her clippings from haircuts given Leik and his three sons in the basement form a vital part of the evidence. Three witnesses testified for the state that tests showed hairs from the basement matched those found upon Miss Beltsman's panties after her body was found in a roadside gully July 26.

Witnesses Differ
But three of the nine witnesses summoned by the defense testified that in their opinions, the hairs from the basement do not match those found on the victim.

Four other defense witnesses were workers from a motorcycle shop in Ypsilanti who said Collins was at their shop about the time the girl vanished.

The case has been highly publicized because the killing of Miss Beltsman marked the seventh time in just over two years that a young woman was slain in Washtenaw County. No charges have been filed against anyone in the six earlier killings.

Millionth Visitor Of Art Institute

DETROIT (AP)—Vito J. Lantini of Warren, accompanied by his wife and four children, Tuesday became the one millionth person to visit the Detroit Institute of Arts this year.

It was the first time in the Institute's 55-year history that it has had more than one million visitors in one year, a spokesman said.

More people got more news from newspapers than all other sources combined.

Longer Navigation Season Eyed By Group

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Chamber of Commerce of the United States today urged legislation to extend the navigation season on the Great Lakes to 10 months, with extension to a full 12 months by 1975.

Metallgesellschaft, a German steel company, said the extension would be a boon to the steel industry.

UAW Readies Termination Plan For GM

DETROIT (AP)—The United Auto Workers Union has told General Motors Corp. it will officially present a 30-day notice of contract termination Saturday.

The UAW's contracts with the Big Three automakers expire at midnight, Sept. 14, but formal termination of the agreement requires notice by one side or the other.

The union's negotiators at Chrysler Corp. said earlier they would serve a 30-day termination notice early next month. A UAW spokesman said a similar action is expected at Ford Motor Co.

All the termination notices mean is that the union will be free to strike whichever company is picked as the strike target if no agreement is reached by expiration time. The notices do not, however, preclude a contract extension if agreement appears near when the pacts are set to expire.

At the bargaining tables Wednesday, the UAW charged that Ford is trying to "legalize" the practice of having foremen perform production work.

The union is seeking either penalties when foremen are caught doing production work, while the company wants the rules liberalized. However, he was granted a new trial last January because the judge at the first trial failed to instruct the jury that capital was a possible verdict. Hummel pleaded guilty Monday before Circuit Judge William J. Ryan, who said during a minimum sentence of one year and a probation of two years. Hummel's attorney, William J. Ryan, said he was not sure if the judge was willing to grant a new trial.

Chambers also says that he was not a party to the crime.

Tate Murder Trial Turning Into Joke?

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Linda Kasabian has been asked a strange series of questions that a lawyer says were written by the three women defendants in the Sharon Tate murder trial.

The questions were posed by Ronald Hughes, the fourth and final defense attorney to cross-examine the state's key witness.

The questions included: "Are you in such a state of mind you could sit on a rock for the rest of your life and be happy? ... What is love? ... What is reality? ... Is God really? ... What do you think of the defendants? ... Do you accept yourself?"

The 21-year-old mother of two did not have to answer most of the questions, however, because prosecution objections to them were sustained.

Later she burst into laughter for the first time in 13 days on the stand when Hughes asked her about a substance that she said she thought was catnip.

Hughes said the questions he asked before the laughter incident were framed for him by defendants Susan Atkins, 21, Patricia Krenwinkel, 22, and Leslie Van Houten, 20, who are on trial with Charles Manson on murder-conspiracy charges.

The girls giggled as their questions were asked, and just before court recessed Wednesday they were observed thumbing through transcripts of the day's testimony, presumably reading their own questions.

"The girls worked on some questions they wanted to ask and they gave them to me over the lunch hour," said Hughes, who is handling his first case. "I asked all of their questions; now I'm asking my own."

Gusts of laughter swept the courtroom at one point as Hughes produced a small plastic bag filled with a green leafy substance. The judge hastily called a bench conference. Then Hughes handed the bag to Mrs. Kasabian.

She looked puzzled and said, "It looks like really refined marijuana with a lot of stems."

Hughes asked her to smell the substance, and she burst into laughter, exclaiming, "No, I believe it's catnip."

Hughes didn't say why he gave it to the witness.

All of Hughes' questions related to drugs. He went through long lists of names, asking Mrs. Kasabian which ones she had taken.

She said she had tried marijuana, LSD, THC, methedrine, mescaline, peyote, psilocybin, morning glory seeds, amyl nitrate, the cough syrup Romilar.

Mrs. Kasabian said in direct testimony that she experimented with hallucinogenic drugs while living in a series of hippie-type communes. However, she has denied that she was on drugs during the week in August 1969 when Miss Tate and six others were slain.

Mrs. Kasabian has been granted immunity from prosecution in the slayings for telling her story. She says clan leader Manson ordered several followers—including the three women—on the killing missions.

John Collins Case Summations Due

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — With the testimony of 57 witnesses written into the record over 17 days, the John Norman Collins murder trial turned today toward final summations of the defense and prosecution cases.

But the summations were not scheduled for completion until late in the day so that one of Michigan's most highly publicized murder trials will not go to the jury before Friday.

This morning was devoted to private conferences among Circuit Judge John Conlin and the attorneys to determine what instructions the judge will give the jurors Friday.

Testimony Completed

Testimony was completed Wednesday without the 23-year-old Collins taking the witness stand to describe his activities on July 23, 1969—the day the coed he is accused of killing disappeared.

The youth's attorneys considered allowing him to testify, but asked Judge Conlin to impose restrictions which would have limited his testimony to little more than an account of his whereabouts the day Karen Sue Beineken vanished.

None of the attorneys would disclose just what happened. Apparently though, the judge either could not or would not agree to imposing restrictions before hearing the questions the prosecution would ask Collins.

Whatever Conlin's ruling was, it was given only to the attorneys and never entered into the court record.

Defense Case Ended

After more than an hour of conferences with the judge Wednesday, Neil Fink, the younger of the two defense lawyers, announced that the defense case was complete.

Prosecutor William Delhey then called three witnesses to rebut portions of the defense testimony that he, too, had presented his last witness.

The trial, which the judge says is the longest in his experience, required six weeks to select a jury. Once testimony began July 20, the prosecutions presented a total of 48 witnesses.

They included several persons who said they saw Collins in the general area where Miss Beineken, an 18-year-old Eastern Michigan University freshman from Grand Rapids, was last seen alive.

Two women at a wig shop in nearby Ypsilanti swore that it was Collins who operated the motorcycle upon which the girl rode away from their shop that day.

Millionth Visitor Of Art Institute

DETROIT (AP)—Vito J. Lentini of Warren, accompanied by his wife and four children, Tuesday became the one millionth person to visit the Detroit Institute of Arts this year. It was the first time in the Institute's 85-year history that it has had more than one million visitors in one year, a spokesman said.

More people get more news from newspapers than all other sources combined.

The population of the Dutch island of Aruba has doubled during the past 20 years to almost 60,000 persons in 1969. In 1965, the latest year for which figures are available, the birthrate was 21.53 per 1,000 and the death rate 3.45 per 1,000.

Longer Navigation Season Eyed By Group

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Conference of Great Lakes Congressmen held its first organizational meeting Wednesday and unanimously elected Rep. John A. Blatnik, R-Minn., as chairman.

Blatnik called for and the delegation embraced a demonstration action program this winter to extend the navigation season to 10 months, with extension to a full 12 months by 1980.

David Oberlin, administrator of the St. Lawrence Seaway, outlined the Nixon administration's recent proposal which would prohibit toll increases on the Great Lakes and cancel the unpaid interest on the seaway debt.

The Conference also adopted a statement of goals and purposes which included:

- Removal of tolls, refinancing of the St. Lawrence Seaway debt.
- Designation of the Great Lakes as the fourth seacoast, and establishment of a fund for vessel modernization and replacement.
- Extension of the navigation season.
- Pollution control.
- Assistance against shore erosion and flooding in the Great Lakes.
- Support for anadromous fish program, sea lamprey control.

Blatnik also outlined the main environmental provisions of the Water Quality Improvement Act of 1970, which fixes liability for oil spills and provides for waste disposal for watercraft.

He also discussed the provisions of the act which authorizes $20 million for a demonstration program of pollution control on the Great Lakes.

The Conference adjourned with the understanding that a progress report session would be held following the Congressional recess.

UAW Readies Termination Plan For GM

DETROIT (AP)—The United Auto Workers Union has told General Motors Corp. it will officially present a 30-day notice of contract termination Saturday.

The UAW's contracts with the Big Three automakers expire at midnight, Sept. 14, but formal termination of the agreement requires notice by one side or the other.

The union's negotiators at Chrysler Corp. said earlier they would serve a 10-day termination notice early next month. A UAW spokesman said a similar action is expected at Ford Motor Co.

All the termination notices mean is that the union will be free to strike whichever company is picked as the strike target if no agreement is reached by expiration time. The notices do not, however, preclude a contract extension if agreement appears near when the pacts are set to expire.

At the bargaining tables Wednesday, the UAW charged that Ford is trying to "legalize" the practice of having foremen perform production work.

The union is seeking stiffer penalties when foremen are caught doing production work, while the company wants the rules liberalized. Under present contracts, foremen are supposed to supervise only and if they are caught doing production jobs, the company must reimburse the worker for the time spent doing his job.

Resentencing Set For Life Term

PONTIAC (AP) — A man sentenced to life in prison in 1952 for murder is scheduled to be resentenced Aug. 26.

Harold Hummel, 39, a former Hazel Park racetrack exercise boy, was convicted of first-degree murder, a mandatory life offense, in the shooting of Vito Vinkurow, 63, and his son, Joseph, 31, after an argument in a bar Aug. 19, 1952.

However, he was granted a new trial last January because the judge at the first trial failed to instruct the jury that acquittal was a possible verdict.

Hummel pleaded guilty Monday before Oakland County Circuit Judge William Beer second degree murder, which carries a minimum sentence of one year and a maximum of life. Oakland County Assistant Prosecutor Edward Sennick said a plea to the lesser charge was accepted because key witnesses to the shooting were no longer available to testify.

Witnesses Testify

Other witnesses testified about evidence found in the basement at the Ypsilanti home of Collins' uncle, State Police Sgt. David Leik. The state contends the girl was killed in that cellar while the family was on vacation and while Collins had a key to the house.

Hair clippings from haircuts given Leik and his three sons in the basement form a vital part of the evidence. Three witnesses testified for the state that tests showed hairs from the basement matched those found upon Miss Beineken's panties after her body was found in a roadside gully July 26.

Witnesses Differ

But three of the nine witnesses summoned by the defense testified that in their opinions, the hairs from the basement do not match those found on the victim.

Four other defense witnesses were workers from a motorcycle shop in Ypsilanti who said Collins was at their shop about the time the girl vanished.

The case has been highly publicized because the killing of Miss Beineken marked the seventh time in just over two years that a young woman was slain in Washtenaw County.

No charges have been filed against anyone in the six earlier killings.

Father Charges Prison At Fault In Death Of Son

DETROIT (AP)—A $1 million suit against the state of Michigan charges Jackson State Prison on doctors with ignoring the complaints of a chronically ailing prisoner, Donald Timothe Moore, resulting in his "wrongful death" July 4.

The suit, filed in Wayne County Circuit Court by Moore's 37-year-old father, Virgil Smith of Detroit, contends that Moore died after being returned, allegedly prematurely, to the prison following treatment from May 30 to June 30 at the University of Michigan Hospital in Ann Arbor.

The suit is based partly on

Moore's illness which said his condition was growing worse and that the prison authorities refused to provide him with adequate care or medication.

Moore was serving a 7½ to 30 sentence for attempted rape. University Hospital authorities said Moore's condition had been "stable" before his return to prison. And prison and State Health Department authorities insist that Moore received the best care they could give him.

Flint Mishap

FLINT (AP)—Ancl David Gibbs, 40, of Flint, died Wednesday in a traffic accident on Flint's North Side. Officers said the man apparently suffered a heart attack and the car side-swiped a telephone pole.

Boat Explosion Leaves One Dead, Several Injured

DETROIT (AP)—One woman was killed and four others were seriously injured when a boat exploded and caught fire in Detroit's Memorial Park Marina Wednesday.

Margaret Lewis, 34, of Detroit died after she was blown off the boat by the explosion, police said. Her body was recovered from eight feet of water by the police Harbor-master Bureau.

Police said the other women on the boat, ranging in age from 17 to 24, were hospitalized in serious condition with burns and broken bones.

They were passengers on a boat owned by Casey Perryman, 34, of Detroit, who told police he was on the stern of the 1969 Chris Craft tying up after on cruise on the Detroit River when the blast occurred about 1:45 a.m. He escaped injury. The cause of the explosion has not been determined.

2 Soldiers Die

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two Michigan men were among 12 servicemen listed as killed in action in Southeast Asia by the Defense Department Wednesday.

They were identified as Army Spec. 4 Roger H. Bouchard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis D. Bouchard of Flint and Army Pfc. Patrick T. Dewulf, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold R. Dewulf of Bloomfield Hills.

Harrison Ends State Police Hitch

EAST LANSING (AP)—State Police Lt. Carl Harrison, assistant commander of the East Lansing District, is retiring after completing nearly 20 years of service. Harrison joined the State Police in 1941 and served at the Grand Haven and Jackson posts before leaving for three years of Army service in World War II. He rejoined police following his military service and served at the Bad Axe, Flint, Houghton Lake, Sandusky and Bay City posts before being transferred to East Lansing.

Draft Board Wants Evaders Off Streets

STURGEON BAY, Wis.—The chairman of Door County Selective Service Board No. 14 says his board will issue no induction notices after Sept. 1 unless the federal government "stops letting draft evaders walk the streets freely."

"We feel that we are as right in what we are doing, as the fellow that has refused induction feels that he is right," Chairman S.F. Brumwick said Tuesday night. "And we will stand firm on this even if we are replaced."

State Selective Service Director L.A. Col. Clinton Kautson said he could not comment on the local board's action until he had studied the board's vote.

Brumwick and two other board members met Monday night and voted "unanimously," Brumwick said, to halt induction of Door County men. He said he was referring to draft evaders in general and did not cite any local cases.

"We have several young men who have asked us why they have to go when others who refused to go are still walking the streets," Brumwick said. "I checked on some local cases and found out there had been no action taken on the matter. We talked it over and decided you can't really force a young person that asks a question like that if you don't have a decent answer. We think it's time our courts change the situation. It seems the Supreme Court is protecting the guilty, not the innocent."

Evidence Sought To Prove Vessel Is Santa Maria

MIAMI (AP)—Two experts in marine archaeology will travel to Haiti this weekend to help a group of explorers and businessmen seek evidence that the Santa Maria, long-lost flagship of Christopher Columbus, has been found.

The explorers and businessmen, led by Fred Dickson of West Palm Beach, say they believe a coral-encrusted wreck is about 35 feet of water off Cap-Haitien on Haiti's north coast is the Santa Maria.

"We are now 95 per cent sure we have found the Santa Maria," said Herman W. Kichen, codiscoverer of the wreck. Items removed from a wrecked ship at the site have been dated by scientific techniques and apparently are from the Columbus era, the team reported.

The Santa Maria, one of three ships that carried Columbus on his discovery of the New World, ran aground and was abandoned at Christmas 1492.

Getting Attention Of Top Man Best Way For Results

LANESING (AP)—When you want to get things done in a hurry—go to the top man.

That was the philosophy of Spec. 1 Charles Bowdler, a soldier stationed at Fort Lee, Va.

Bowdler telephoned person-to-person from Fort Lee to State Highway Director Henrik Stalset to report he had a bridgecase somewhere along Interstate 94 freeway in Michigan.

Stalset promised to check it out. The highway director discovered the bridgecase was found by a group of teen-agers from Jackson, hired for litter cleanup working during the summer.

The bridgecase already is on the way back to the soldier.

Suit Is Rejected; Lake Fishing Out

LANESING (AP)—The Michigan Supreme Court has rejected a suit by the Lake St. Clair Advisory Committee which asked that the lake be reopened to full fishing.

The committee, which comprises lakeshore residents and businessmen, sought to overturn an order by Gov. William Milliken which restricted fishing on the lake to a "catch-and-release" basis because of possible mercury contamination of fish.

When the mercury threat first became known this spring, Milliken ordered a complete ban on fishing in the lake, but later modified it to allow fishing as long as any catch is thrown back immediately. Parts of Lakes Huron and Erie and the St. Clair and Detroit Rivers are also affected by the restrictions.

The Supreme Court, in a very brief order, ruled that the committee's challenge of Milliken's power to impose the ban was "without merit."

UAW Asks Strike Votes To Back Up Negotiating Unit

DETROIT (AP)—Local unions of the United Auto Workers have been ordered to conduct strike votes immediately to back up the UAW team now attempting to negotiate a new contract with the nation's No. 3 automaker.

Sept. 1 was set as the deadline for completing local union strike votes in telegrams dispatched by Douglas Fraser, a UAW vice president and chief of the union's Chrysler Department.

Whether strike authorization would be exercised would be left to union negotiators, headed by Fraser.

Current three-year contracts with Chrysler, General Motors and Ford expire at midnight Sept. 14, and UAW President Leonard Woodcock has said flatly that one of the Big Three will be struck if no new contract is in hand by that time.

Obtaining strike authorization in advance of contract expiration or the UAW's picking a target for forcing a pattern-setting agreement is not unusual in new contract bargaining.

Hearing Slated On Motor City Election Foul-Up

LANESING (AP)—The Michigan Senate Committee looking into Detroit primary election problems has asked anyone "with knowledge of irregular or illegal election day activities" to testify at hearings planned in the city next week.

The committee has scheduled one hearing for Wednesday evening, another Thursday morning.

Sen. George Kuhn, R-Birmingham, defeated in a re-election bid Aug. 4, chairs the committee, which held a five-hour session Monday in Romulus.

Kuhn said Detroit City Clerk George Edwards and his assistant, James Jackson, told the committee at that time about the computer breakdown during counting of the city's primary punchcard ballots.

Kalamazoo Sets Income Tax Plan

KALAMAZOO (AP)—The Kalamazoo City Commission has decided to adopt a city income tax and ask voter approval of it in the Nov. 3 general election.

While imposing an income tax of one per cent on residents and one-half per cent on nonresidents working in the city, the commission proposed a charter amendment to lower the maximum property tax rate from 30 to 18 mills. Property now is taxed at 17.8 mills.

The two steps to ease the city's financial bind were recommended by a Citizens Municipal Finance Committee appointed by the commission to make a study.

City commissioners agreed Monday night to introduce the income tax resolution next week and give it final passage the following week.

Incumbent Wins In Close Election

LANESING (AP)—Ingham County election officials have declared Rep. Philip O. Pittenger, R-Lansing, the winner by 15 votes in his race against Mrs. Polly D. Gibson for the area's Republican State Senate nomination.

Ingham County Clerk Ross Hilliard said Wednesday the County board of canvassers have found Pittenger polled 7,485 votes to Mrs. Gibson's 7,470.

Mrs. Gibson said she had not decided whether to ask for a recount.

It's long been known that most people don't follow their doctor's advice when it comes to taking medicine. Almost two-thirds of those included in a recent study didn't get their prescriptions filled, didn't take the medicine as directed, or stopped taking it.

Failure to have the doctor's order for drugs filled was either open ("I couldn't afford it right then") or hidden ("I must have lost it somewhere"), but it often reflected a fear of illness that was greater than the fear of pain. You'd be surprised how many people are convinced that they have a hidden cancer and will not be comforted by a pill or by any other explanation of their discomfort.

Sometimes a medication is so unpleasant that the patient stops taking it. Or, as Dr. Bertram Moss points out in "Caring for the Aged," a stout or elderly person may find it too difficult to self-administer a suppository. Instead of leaving the medicine on the shelf, the patient should call the doctor and ask to have another drug prescribed, or for another method of taking the medicine. It may be better taken after a meal instead of before, or with milk instead of water, or as a solid tablet instead of as a liquid.

And very often, as soon as the patient feels better he "forgets" to take the medicine needed to keep his disorder in line. It ends up in the medicine cabinet where it may be used improperly by another person, or where it will ultimately lose its medical value.

The answer is simple: "Take as directed."

Draft Board Wants Evaders Off Streets

STURGEON BAY, Wisconsin (AP) — The chairman of Door County Selective Service Board No. 16 says his board will issue no induction notices after Sept. 1 unless the federal government "stops letting draft evaders walk the streets freely."

"We feel that we are as right in what we are doing, as the fellow that has refused induction feels that he is right," Chairman S.F. Brunswick said Tuesday night. "And we will stand firm on this even if we are replaced."

State Selective Service Director Lt. Col. Clinton Knutson said he could not comment on the local board's action until he had studied the board's vote.

Brunswick and two other board members met Monday night and voted "unanimously," Brunswick said, to halt induction of Door County men. He said he was referring to draft evaders in general and did not cite any local cases.

BEHIND the COUNTER

Bob Krohmer

It's long been known that most people don't follow their doctor's advice when it comes to taking medicine. Almost two-thirds of those included in a recent study didn't get their prescriptions filled, didn't take the medicine as directed, or stopped taking it.

Failure to have the doctor's order for drugs filled was either open ("I couldn't afford it right then") or hidden ("I must have lost it somewhere"), but it often reflected a fear of illness that was greater than the fear of pain. You'd be surprised how many people are convinced that they have a hidden cancer and will not be comforted by a pill or by any other explanation of their discomfort.

Sometimes a medication is so unpleasant that the patient stops taking it. Or, as Dr. Bertram Moss points out in "Caring for the Aged," a stout or elderly person may find it too difficult to self-administer a suppository. Instead of leaving the medication on the shelf, the patient should call the doctor and ask to have another drug prescribed, or for another method of taking the medicine. It may be better taken after a meal instead of before, or with milk instead of water, or as a solid tablet instead of as a liquid.

And very often, as soon as the patient feels better he "forgets" to take the medicine needed to keep his disorder in line. It ends up in the medicine cabinet where it may be used improperly by another person, or where it will ultimately lose its medical value.

The answer is simple: "Take as directed."

Father Charges Prison At Fault In Death Of Son

DETROIT (AP) — A $1 million suit against the state of Michigan charges Jackson State Prison doctors with ignoring the complaints of a chronically asthmatic prisoner, Donald Timothy Moore, resulting in his "wrongful death" July 4.

The suit, filed in Wayne County Circuit Court by Moore's 37-year-old father Virgil Smith of Detroit, contends that Moore died after being returned, allegedly prematurely, to the prison following treatment from May 30 to June 30 at the University of Michigan Hospital in Ann Arbor.

The suit is based partly on

Moore's letters which said his condition was growing worse each day and that the prison authorities refused to provide him with adequate care or medicine.

Moore was serving a 7½ to 10 sentence for attempted rape. University Hospital authorities said Moore's condition had been "stabilized" before his return to prison. And prison and State Health Department authorities insist that Moore received the best care they could give him.

FLINT Mishap

FLINT (AP) — Ancil David Gibbs, 40, of Clio, died Wednesday in a traffic accident on Flint's North Side. Officers said the man apparently suffered a heart attack and the car swiped a telephone pole.

Boat Explosion Leaves One Dead, Several Injured

DETROIT (AP) — One woman was killed and four others were seriously injured when a boat exploded and caught fire in Detroit's Memorial Park Marina Wednesday.

Margaret Lewis, 24, of Detroit died after she was blown off the boat by the explosion, police said. Her body was recovered from eight feet of water by the police Harbor-mater Bureau.

Police said the other women on the boat, ranging in age from 17 to 24, were hospitalized in serious condition with burns and broken bones.

They were passengers on a boat owned by Casey Perryman, 34, of Detroit, who told police he was on the stern of the 1959 Chris Craft tying up after on cruise on the Detroit River when the blast occurred about 1:45 a.m. He escaped injury. The cause of the explosion has not been determined.

2 Soldiers Die

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Michigan men were among 12 servicemen listed as killed in action in Southeast Asia by the Defense Department Wednesday.

They were identified as Army Spec. 4 Roger H. Bouchard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis D. Bouchard of Flint and Army Pfc. Patrick T. Dewulf, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold R. Dewulf of Bloomfield Hills.

Harrison Ends State Police Hitch

EAST LANSING (AP) — State Police Lt. Carl Harrison, assistant commander of the East Lansing District, is retiring after completing nearly 29 years of service. Harrison joined the State Police in 1941 and served at the Grand Haven and Jackson posts before leaving for three years of Army service in World War II. He rejoined police following his military service and served at the Bad Axe, Flint, Houghton Lake, Sandusky and Bay City posts before being transferred to East Lansing.

UAW Asks Strike Votes To Back Up Negotiating Unit

DETROIT (AP) — Local unions of the United Auto Workers have been ordered to conduct strike votes immediately to back up the UAW team now attempting to negotiate a new contract with the nation's No. 3 automaker.

Sept. 1 was set as the deadline for completing local union strike votes in telegrams dispatched by Douglas Fraser, a UAW vice president and chief of the union's Chrysler Department.

Whether strike authorization would be exercised would be left to union negotiators, headed by Fraser.

Current three-year contracts with Chrysler, General Motors and Ford expire at midnight Sept. 14, and UAW President Leonard Woodcock has said flatly that one of the Big Three will be struck if no new contract is in hand by that time.

Obtaining strike authorization in advance of contract expiration or the UAW's picking a target for forcing a pattern-setting agreement is not unusual in new contract bargaining.

Hearing Slated On Motor City Election Foul-Up

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Senate Committee looking into Detroit primary election problems has asked anyone "with knowledge of irregular or illegal election days activities" to testify at hearings planned in the city next week.

The committee has scheduled one hearing for Wednesday evening, another Thursday morning.

Sen. George Kuhn, R-Birmingham, defeated in a re-election bid Aug. 4, chairs the committee, which held a five-hour session Monday in Romulus.

Kuhn said Detroit City Clerk George Edwards and his assistant, James Jackson, told the committee at that time about the computer breakdown during counting of the city's primary punchcard ballots.

Kalamazoo Sets Income Tax Plan

KALAMAZOO (AP) — The Kalamazoo City Commission has decided to adopt a city income tax and ask voter approval of it in the Nov. 3 general election.

While imposing an income tax of one per cent on residents and one-half per cent on nonresidents working in the city, the commission proposed a charter amendment to lower the maximum property tax rate from 20 to 16 mills. Property now is taxed at 17.9 mills.

The two steps to ease the city's financial bind were recommended by a Citizens Municipal Finance Committee appointed by the commission to make a study.

City commissioners agreed Monday night to introduce the income tax resolution next week and give it final passage the following week.

Incumbent Wins In Close Election

LANSING (AP) — Ingham County election officials have declared Rep. Philip O. Pittenger, R-Lansing, the winner by 15 votes in his race against Mrs. Polly D. Gibson for the area's Republican State Senate nomination.

Ingham County Clerk Ross Hilliard said Wednesday the County board of canvassers have found Pittenger polled 7,493 votes to Mrs. Gibson's 7,478.

Mrs. Gibson said she had not decided whether to ask for a recount.

District Court

Alan E. Finn, 44, Charlevoix, waived preliminary examination and was bound to Circuit Court on a negligent homicide charge stemming from an automobile accident last February on M-36, near Seney, in which Finn's son was killed.

Finn's District Court arraignment was delayed because he was hospitalized with injuries received in the accident.

Mrs. Mary Strange, 209 Range St., stood mute during an arraignment Wednesday on a charge of furnishing intoxicants to minors. A plea of not guilty was entered in her behalf and Judge Charles A. Stark set Aug. 27 as tentative trial date. Bond of $100 was ordered continued although Mrs. Strange was unable to post and she was remanded to custody of the sheriff.

Larry Lee Winsor, 17, N. Houghton Ave., and David L. Reed, 18, Chippewa Ave., both pleaded guilty to being minors in possession of intoxicants and were ordered to each pay $15 and $15.

Teacher Charged In Transportation Of Explosives

DETROIT (AP)—A third person has been arraigned in Detroit federal court on an indictment handed down by a grand jury July 23 charging 12 persons with conspiracy to transport explosives across state lines for purposes of bombing police stations and government buildings.

Russell Neufeld, 22, a New York college teacher, is free on $7,500 bond today after pleading innocent before Federal Judge Talbot Smith recently. Neufeld is specifically charged with buying 100 pounds of dynamite, fuses and caps last March in New Hampshire.

Diane Marie Doughli, 21, and Jane Spielman, 21, both of New York, were arraigned on the conspiracy charges last Thursday.

All are alleged members of the radical Weathermen "Action of the Students for Democratic Society."

Maximum penalty for violating the federal conspiracy law is five years in prison and up to $10,000 in fines.

Record-Breaking Harvest Unlikely

WASHINGTON (AP)—Acreage cutbacks, dry weather and tighter government controls on some commodities have reduced prospects for another record-breaking harvest for American farmers.

Total production, however, is expected to be down only slightly from the record in 1969, the Agriculture Department said.

Tighter acreage controls on wheat and rice, for example, have helped push food grain prospects down 7 per cent from 1969, according to the department's monthly crop report issued Tuesday.

Production of nonfruit fruit, including apples, peaches and pears, was predicted to be 12 per cent less, and the output of half a dozen major vegetables for processing 5 per cent less.

Over-all, the Crop Reporting Board said, the "all crops" index as of August 1 was 20.8 per cent higher than the 1967-68 average, compared with a gain last year of 21.3 per cent.

Briefly Told

Students who have completed driver training classes may pick up their certificates after 10 a.m. Friday in the high school principal's office. Textbooks may also be returned at this time.

Alvin Nelson, 334 Range St., is a patient in Room 314, St. Luke's Hospital, Marquette.

Dr. and Mrs. Van Mueller, Venema, Kerry and Edith, spent a week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Mueller, Terrace Ave., and left Tuesday to attend an educational workshop at Louisiana State College. Dr. Mueller is associate professor and assistant chairman of the Division of Educational Administration at the University of Minnesota in Minneapolis.

Series H Bonds.

For when you and your Series E Bonds retire.

If you have a comfortable nest egg of Series E Bonds stacked away, and you're thinking of retiring, here's a helpful tip. Exchange your E Bonds for H Bonds.

That way the tax on the interest you've accrued is deferred. And, the new interest you'll be earning on H Bonds will provide you with a steady income. Interest checks will be mailed right to your door once every six months.

H Bonds are now available in denominations of $500, $1,000, and $5,000. And a special $10,000 denomination is available for E Bond transfers. H Bonds pay 7 1/2 percent when held to maturity of 30 years (4.75% the first year; thereafter 5.10% to maturity). That's the highest rate over. Ask your banker about the advantages of H Bonds.

They're a great way to make your money go further when you and your E Bonds retire.

Back on sale after 1969, or whenever you wish. H Bonds are redeemable after six months. And always remember: Bonds are a good way to grow.

Commitment Due On English Fords

DETROIT (AP)—Ford Motor Co. announced Wednesday that its U.S. dealers would stop carrying the Ford of England-built Cortina line of compact cars when present stocks are exhausted.

A Ford spokesman said Cortina sales for the year to date were only 8,000, down from 12,000 a year ago.

The Cortina will continue to be sold in Canada, where sales are running 30 per cent above 1969 levels.

Ford said its dealers will continue to stock Cortina parts and that buyers of the cars remaining for sale in the country will receive certificates good for $125 when they trade their Cortinas in.

New Auto Sales Still Declining

DETROIT (AP)—New car sales in the nation by domestic automakers declined 4.4 per cent in the first 10 days of August compared to last year.

For the Aug. 1-10 period, automakers sold 148,577 this year, compared to 155,439 in the same period last year.

Chrysler Corp. reported a 17 per cent gain in the first 10 days of August, with sales of 25,485 compared to 21,730 last year. American Motors Co. also showed an 11 per cent increase, with sales of 4,989 this year compared to 4,500 last year.

General Motors Corp. reported a slight decline in the Aug. 1-10 period, with sales of 50,821 this year compared with 51,198 last year. Ford Motor Co. reported the largest decline with sales of 37,522 compared to 45,125 last year. There were eight selling days in the early August period in both years.

For the calendar year to date automakers have sold 4,700,519 new cars, compared to 5,194,511 last year.

State Pair Splits Vote On Missiles

WASHINGTON (AP)—As expected, Michigan's two U. S. senators split Wednesday when the Senate defeated 52-47 an amendment which would have restricted development of the Safeguard antiballistic missile system.

Democrat Philip Hart, cosponsor of the amendment with Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., voted for it. Republican Robert Griffin, a firm administration supporter on ABM, voted against the amendment.

School Board Divided But Budget Is Adopted

By BARBARA JOHNSON

It was a warm and humid night Tuesday when the Area Board of Education met to conduct school business with the formalities taking about four hours.

As usual, the meeting had its explosive moments with Trustee Robert Knoph attacking the Community School Program and the value of travel expense allowance for school personnel.

The board adopted, 5-2, a balanced 1970-71 operating budget of $1,307,700 with Knoph and Wood voting against adoption. Wood said he favored adoption after the annual audit of school books while Knoph complained the board lost control of spending after budget adoption.

how much the percentage increases would mean in dollars and cents and when she was unable to answer, accused her of being willing to blindly go along with any administrative recommendation.

Mrs. Waters said she had read the board report information and decided before the meeting she was in favor of the increases.

Items Questioned

Knoph's objection was disputed by Supt. Edwin E. Wuehle who said past experience proved that not all money budgeted for certain items is spent and that the board did have control of spending.

Wood questioned such budgetary items as printing and publishing; public relations; audio-visual; school lunch funds, while Knoph set his sights on a $3,000 travel expense allocation.

Although both men were informed they could make a motion to amend the figures, both refused to do so.

Knoph's brother, Emil, who was in the audience, violently objected to Wuehle's recommendation that an 8.4 per cent salary increase for head custodian Joe Wood, office coordinator Margaret Cain and acting librarian Katherine LeBrasseur be approved. The three are unrepresented by any bargaining group.

Words Exchanged

Wuehle said the suggested salary increases could become embarrassing to the people involved if the matter was prolonged and asked the board to make a decision then.

"You always try to railroad things through," Emil Knoph shouted at Wuehle. "I've watched you do the same thing before."

"I don't have a vote and can't railroad things through this board since I only make recommendations. You insult the intelligence of the people on this board by your accusations," the superintendent replied.

"Why should we settle this matter in one night?" Wood asked. "I was going to say something along the same lines as Mr. Knoph. Why don't we meet these people individually and talk this over. Some of these things do get pushed along pretty fast."

Emil Knoph then directed a question to Margaret Waters on

Raises Approved

The raises, approved 4-3 with board president William Mueller voting no with Wood and Knoph, to raise custodian Wood's annual salary to $9,756 from $9,000; Mrs. Cain's to $6,504 from $6,000; and Mrs. LeBrasseur's hourly pay from $3.18 to $3.45.

Mueller withheld his support for the increases since he felt, he said, the action might influence negotiations between the board and auxiliary service employees.

Between hassles, the board okayed blacktopping a portion of the Lincoln School yard for $3,400; electrical work in the high school shop; accepted a contracted vocational education grant and an Elementary - Secondary Education Act grant; referred workmen's compensation bids for study; adopted a certification of township debt retirement at Lincoln School pending a report on other school boiler needs; and cast their ballots for directors of the Michigan Association of School Boards. Mrs. Jeanne Larson of the local board is a candidate.

Gerald Wilson was named principal of Fairview School to replace Harold Miller who resigned.

Series H Bonds. For when you and your Series E Bonds retire.

If you have a comfortable nest egg of Series E Bonds stashed away, and you're thinking of retiring, here's a helpful tip. Exchange your E Bonds for H Bonds. That way the tax on the interest you've accrued is deferred. And, the new interest you'll be earning on H Bonds will provide you with a steady income. Interest checks will be mailed right to your door once every six months.

H Bonds are now available in denominations of $500, $1,000, and $5,000. And a special $10,000 denomination is available for E Bond transfers. H Bonds pay 5% interest when held to maturity of 10 years (4.29% the first year; thereafter 5.10% to maturity). That's the highest rate ever. Ask your banker about the advantages of H Bonds.

They're a great way to make your money go further when you and your E Bonds retire.

Curtailment Due On English Fords

DETROIT (AP)—Ford Motor Co. announced Wednesday that its U.S. dealers would stop carrying the Ford of England-built Cortina line of compact cars when present stocks are exhausted.

A Ford spokesman said Cortina sales for the year to date were only 8,500, down from 13,000 a year ago.

The Cortina will continue to be sold in Canada, where sales are running 30 per cent above 1969 levels.

Ford said its dealers will continue to stock Cortina parts and that buyers of the cars remaining for sale in the country will receive certificates good for $125 when they trade their Cortinas in.

eight selling days in the early August period in both years.

For the calendar year to date automakers have sold 4,760,519 new cars, compared to 5,194,211 last year.

State Pair Splits Vote On Missiles

WASHINGTON (AP)—As expected, Michigan's two U. S. senators split Wednesday when the Senate defeated 52-47 an amendment which would have restricted development of the Safeguard antiballistic missile system.

Democrat Philip Hart, cosponsor of the amendment with Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., voted for it. Republican Robert Griffin, a firm administration supporter on ABM, voted against the amendment.

Lawyers Still Have Two Big Swings Left

NEW YORK (AP) — It's still three strikes before you're out, and Curt Flood's attorneys made it clear today they still have two big swings left.

Flood, 30, has first strike while vouching in Copenhagen when Judge Irving R. Cooper upheld baseball's controversial reserve system against Flood in his antitrust suit.

No surprise. The ruling didn't surprise Flood's backers, and they made ready for another swing, this time in a federal court of appeals, and then, if necessary, the U.S. Supreme Court.

"All that Judge Cooper held is that it is up to the Supreme Court to overrule the Supreme Court," said Marvin Miller, executive director of the Players Association, which has supported Flood in his suit. "I think everyone knew it would be difficult for a district court to overrule the Supreme Court."

"There will, of course, be an appeal," said attorney Allan Zerman.

And from a camp in the Adirondacks, where he is campaigning for governor of New York, former Supreme Court Justice Arthur Goldberg, another of Flood's attorneys, said "this is the end of the first inning. The next swing will be in the court of appeals."

A $1 million antitrust suit Flood, a 30-year-old star centerfielder who has a .300 lifetime batting average with St. Louis, filed a $1 million antitrust suit against baseball after the Cardinals traded him to Philadelphia last winter.

However, Judge Cooper, in his 47-page decision on the May 19 June 19 trial, upheld baseball's 51-year-old exemption granted by the Supreme Court from antitrust legislation.

This reserve system is a set of rules which binds a player to one club unless he is traded, sold or released.

Effect of the system. He said the effect of the system is to "deny him (the player) throughout his career freedom to choose his employer," but added that the system is "reasonable and necessary to preserve the integrity of the game, maintain balanced competition and fan interest and encourage continued investment in player development."

However, he also wrote "we are convinced that the conflicts between the parties are not irreconcilable and that negotiations could produce an accommodation . . . which would be eminently fair and equitable to all concerned."

At least one player representative, pitcher Steve Hamilton of the New York Yankees, while reaffirming the Players Association's back of Flood, left negotiations still in the last way.

"We had hoped the case never would go this far," he said. "We wanted to negotiate. We still hope to do so."

Before Flood sought his injunction on the reserve system and damages and forfeited his $50,000 a year salary by voluntarily sitting out this season, there had been talk of the players and owners getting together to modify the system.

Highland Flingers Remain In First

The Highland Flingers continued to pace the Ladies League at the Highland Club Thursday upping their lead to 64 points over Carolyn's Clubbers in the league standings.

Kelaine Nelson, Vicky Beck and Lenore Palmgren led all scorers for the day with 49, while Carolyn Nelson was one stroke behind with a 46, Elaine Fairchild and Dorothy Loosen rounded out the top scorers with 47s.

The awards for being the closest to pin No. 7 went to Lorraine Johnston and Lenore Palmgren.

The team standings: Highland Flingers 77; Carolyn's Clubbers 70 1/2; Martha's Mashers 69 1/2; Fairway Queens 64 1/2; Loosen's Swingers 63; Beck's Bombers 60; Carolyn's Stripes 57; Smitty's Smashers 57; Kelly's Irons 55 1/2; and the 10th Holes 54.

River Post Snares Slow Pitch Crown

The league champs, River Post, added another trophy to its collection Wednesday night at the Memorial Field by edging a stubborn Paper Mill team 11-10 in extra innings to win the City Slow Pitch Championship.

River Post started the game fast by scoring six runs in the first inning on singles by Jim Olsen and Wally Marenger. Dick Marenger then followed with a triple to left field scoring the first two runs. Jim Sargent continued the uprising by lashing a single up the middle scoring Marenger and the Post was out in front 3-0.

Singles by Monty Hurbables and Carl Wight and a double by Myron Jackson led to three more runs and it looked like the River Post had the game all but sewed up.

Paper Mill, which gained the finals by coming out of the losers bracket, scored four times in their half of the first inning on a couple of errors on the part of the River Post and singles by Fran Derouin and Larry LaPlant.

The game remained close throughout the next five innings and in the last inning Ray VanEffen singled for the Papermakers and scored the tying run on Russ Lewis' double.

With two out in the eighth inning and the game still tied, Norm Pangonis started River Post off again by lining a single to right field. Al Buckland followed with another single and Myron Jackson walked to load the bases. Ralph McGeary added the finishing touch for the Post by driving a single up the middle scoring Pangonis with the winning run and the tournament championship.

Phil Husey won the wild mound decision for the River Post while Larry LaPlant was saddled with the defeat for the Papermakers.

Jim Sargent, Myron Jackson and Wally Marenger paced the Post attack with three hits apiece while Jim McDonnell and Bob Trombley led the Paper Mill attack with two hits apiece.

In the nightcap, Jolly Rogers' Men's team, with Connie Verhamme of the Girl's Lombardi's Bar team handling the mound duties, posted a 17-13 victory over Lombardi's Girl's team where Jug, Mammy and Dick Bourdeau shared the mound duties to help even out the sides.

Howes' Sports

by Don Howes

Dave Hooping of Berk River, who drives car No. 14 in the modified class received a special gift at the Escanaba Speedway last Sunday for his fine efforts at the Escanaba Speedway Saturday night. Dave went off the track with one lap remaining in the feature race when he thought that it was the last lap, received a white flag at the ceremonies, not a checked flag showing that feature races are 30 laps and all flags have a special meaning . . . so let's watch the flags next time Dave.

The latest point standings at the Escanaba Speedway show little change with Ed Fowley of Soo, Canada continuing to lead the modified division by 415 points over Bob Iverson of Elyse and Wrennall Tourangeau of Salsader has upped his No. 1 lead to 375 points over Pat Temple of Norway in the sportman class. The point standings as of last Saturday are as follows:

Modified	Sportman
1. Ed Fowley4430	1. Wrennall Tourangeau 2410
2. Bob Iverson4015	2. Pat Temple2385
3. Jerry Richer3400	3. Bob Peterson2070
4. Jim Hovon3000	4. Larry Dubard2755
5. Allen Yelle2425	5. Joe Harkness2070
6. Gene Coleman2400	6. Dick Peterson2000
7. Joe Worth2100	7. Mike Bultant2175
8. Dave Bolleson2010	8. Ken Van2005
9. Ray Gardner2000	9. Ben Pagnette1810
10. Mark Iverson1905	10. Carl Chaffey1810

Ed Fowley who is the No. 1 modified driver at the Escanaba Speedway is currently No. 1 on his home race track at Heydon Speedway in Soo, Canada. Bob Iverson who came from the middle of the pack to win the feature on the Soo track last Sunday is also second there with Jerry Richer holding down the third position in the point standings at the Soo.

Wrennall Tourangeau of Berk River, the No. 1 sportman driver at the Escanaba Speedway who has been driving for the last four years with his 1967 Chevrolet, which is car No. 66 said "before the race Saturday night that he had points to make up," and points he did. Tourangeau who enjoyed one of his better nights on the track jumped his point lead from 60 to 375 over Pat Temple of Norway . . . Wrennall said that a lot of credit for his driving success this season is the fine support from his pitmen which include Victor Zar Jr., Richard Beagle, Nick Donelson and Kenneth Crowe.

In speaking of pitmen, the pit crews of the various drivers should be noted for their efforts that have helped keep the drivers in the races, as well as helping to keep the races running smooth as they have been so far this season. A lot of the fans don't realize what goes on in the pits and one tour of the pit area finds that you are in one of the biggest outdoor tune-up stations in the U. P., where everyone is kept busy from the start to the finish of every race.

Judge Rules Against Flood

Lawyers Still Have Two Big Swings Left

NEW YORK (AP) — It's still three strikes before you're out, and Curt Flood's attorneys made it clear today they still have two big swings left.

River Post Snares Slow Pitch Crown

The league champs, River Post, added another trophy to its collection Wednesday night at the Memorial Field by edging a stubborn Paper Mill team 11-10 in extra innings to win the City Slow Pitch Championship.

River Post started the game fast by scoring six runs in the first inning on singles by Jim Olsen and Wally Marenger. Dick Marenger then followed with a triple to left field scoring the first two runs. Jim Sargent continued the uprising by lashing a single up the middle scoring Marenger and the Post was out in front 3-0.

Singles by Monty Hurthibise and Carl Wight and a double by Myron Jackson led to three more runs and it looked like the River Post had the game all but sewed up.

Paper Mill, which gained the finals by coming out of the losers bracket, scored four times in their half of the first inning on a couple of errors on the part of the River Post and singles by Fran Derouin and Larry LaPlant.

The game remained close throughout the next five innings and in the last inning Ray VanEffen singled for the Papermakers and scored the tying run on Russ Lewis' double.

With two out in the eighth inning and the game still tied, Norm Pangonis started River Post off again by lining a single to right field. Al Buckland followed with another single and Myron Jackson walked to load the bases. Ralph McGearry added the finishing touch for the Post by driving a single up the middle scoring Pangonis with the winning run and the tournament championship.

Phil Hiney won the wild mound decision for the River Post while Larry LaPlant was saddled with the defeat for the Papermakers.

Jim Sargent, Myron Jackson and Wally Marenger paced the Post attack with three hits apiece while Jim McDonnell and Bob Trombley led the Paper Mill attack with two hits apiece.

In the nightcap, Jolly Roger's Men's team, with Connie Verhamme of the Girl's Lombardi's Bar team handling the mound duties, posted a 17-13 victory over Lombardi's Girls team where Jug, Mammy and Dick Bourdeau shared the mound duties to help even out the sides.

Dave Hosking of Bark River, who drives car No. 14 in the modified class received a special gift at the National Guard meeting last Sunday for his fine efforts at the Escanaba Speedway Saturday night. Dave went off the track with one lap remaining in the feature race when he thought that it was the last lap, received a white flag at the ceremonies, not a checked flag showing that feature races are 20 laps and all flags have a special meaning . . . so lets watch the flags next time Dave.

The latest point standings at the Escanaba Speedway show little change with Ed Powley of Soo, Canada continuing to lead the modified division by 415 points over Bob Iverson of Hyde and Wennell Tourangeau of Schaffer has upped his No. 1 lead to 275 points over Pat Temple of Norway in the sportsmen class. The point standings as of last Saturday are as follows:

Modified		Sportsmen
1. Ed Powley	4430	1. Wennell Tourangeau	3410
2. Bob Iverson	4015	2. Pat Temple	3285
3. Jerry Richer	3450	3. Bill Peterson	2970
4. Jim Barron	2520	4. Larry Duford	2785
5. Allen Yelle	2435	5. Joe Haferkorn	2370
6. Gene Coleman	2425	6. Dick Peterson	2295
7. Joe Wurth	2130	7. Mike Bubloni	2175
8. Dave Boileau	2010	8. Ken Viau	1905
9. Ray Gardner	2000	9. Ron Paquette	1510
10. Herb Iverson	1865	10. Carl Chaltrey	1510

Ed Powley who is the No. 1 modified driver at the Escanaba Speedway is currently No. 1 on his home race track at Heyden Speedway in Soo, Canada. Bob Iverson who came from the middle of the pack to win the feature on the Soo track last Sunday is also second there with Jerry Richer holding down the third position in the point standings at the Soo.

Wennell Tourangeau of Bark River, the No. 1 sportsmen driver at the Escanaba Speedway who has been driving for the last four years with his 1957 Chevrolet, which is car No. 66 said "before the races Saturday night that he had points to make up," and points he did. Tourangeau who enjoyed one of his better nights on the track jumped his point lead from 60 to 275 over Pat Temple of Norway . . . Wennell said that a lot of credit for his driving success this season is the fine support from his pitmen which include Victor Zar Jr., Richard Bougie, Nick Dennison and Kenneth Crowe.

In speaking of pitmen, the pit crews of the various drivers should be noted for their efforts that have helped keep the drivers in the races, as well as helping to keep the races running smooth as they have been so far this season. A lot of the fans don't realize what goes on in the pits and one tour of the pit area finds that you are in one of the biggest outdoor tune-up stations in the U. P., where everyone is kept busy from the start to the finish of every race.

MAKERS OF LIFESAVER RADIAL TIRES "YOUR LIFE SHOULD BE RIDING ON THEM"

Brewers Triumph; Tigers Lose Another Close One

MILWAUKEE (AP) — It took 5 1/2 years for Bernie Smith to make it to the major leagues, and only one swing for the Detroit Tigers to regret it.

The reserve outfielder hit for Dave May in the eighth inning Wednesday night and rifled a double down the right field line that scored the tying and winning runs as the Milwaukee Brewers edged Detroit, 3-2.

The hit raised Smith's batting average to .300 with seven hits in 14 trips to the plate. The runs batted in were his first in the majors.

"I've been in this situation before," Smith said. "You see a lot of things in 5 1/2 years in the minors."

The bases were loaded when Detroit manager Mayo Smith brought in Fred Scherman to pinch for May. Scherman is a left-handed pitcher and May a left-handed batter.

Milwaukee boss Dave Bristol replaced May with Smith, who was called up to the majors less than a month ago.

"I asked him, 'What should you do in this situation,'" Bristol said. "He said, 'I need to stay away from the double play and hit a fly ball.'"

Smith, however, changed his strategy after Cal Ripken, the Brewers' third base coach, told him Scherman threw sliders and sliders.

"I decided to look for an outside pitch that I could hit to right," Smith said. "I sure didn't want to pull a slider, because it would have been a one-hopper back to the pitcher. He throws home, then to first and you have a double play."

Two plays at home plate also figured in the verdict. Danny Walton scored on the front end of a double steal when Detroit catcher Bill Freehan dropped a throw from the shortstop for an error. At the time, Walton's run tied the game at 2-2.

"He (Walton) hit him (Freehan) real good," said Bristol. "I think he hit him at the same time the ball arrived. That was a big play."

In the eighth, winning pitcher Gene Brubaker had the bases loaded with one out when he uncorked a wild pitch.

"I tried to throw a fast ball on the outside corner, but I got it out there too far," Brubaker said.

The ball went all the way to the screen, hit the concrete base of the grandstand and rebounded almost back to the plate where catcher Phil Roof grabbed it and tagged out Dalton Jones, who was attempting to score from third.

The two teams battled again Thursday afternoon with Danny McLain, 2-3, going for Detroit against Milwaukee's Marty Patton, 3-4.

Gibson Sets Record As Cardinals Win

By The Associated Press
Manager Red Schoendienst wouldn't have given two cents for Bob Gibson's chances before the game and the fire-balling St. Louis Cardinals ace had to agree.

But before the night was over, the veteran right-hander had chalked up his 19th victory and snapped a major league record in the process.

Strike-Out Record
The record — becoming the first pitcher in history to strike out 200 or more batters in eight seasons — was probably Gibson's easiest work Wednesday night, coming in the third inning when he fanned Nate Colbert, giving him an even 200 for the year.

However, the 34-year-old workhorse had to go 14 innings before subduing the stubborn San Diego Padres 5-4.

He was reached for 13 hits but also fanned 210, upping his season total to 210, sending him ahead of former American League hurlers Walter Johnson and Rube Waddell, who had shared the mark with Gibson of seven seasons.

Carl Taylor, who won Tuesday's game for the Cards with a dramatic ninth inning grand slam, was the co-hero along with Gibson, drawing a bases-loaded walk of loser Ron Williams, forcing in the winning run.

Gibson, when told he had thrown 178 pitches, shrugged and said: "I don't care about the number of pitches. They always talk about the number, but you can throw 30 pitches and lose."

Cards Trail By 3
The victory by the Cards' 12th in 14 games and edged them to within eight games of the struggling Pittsburgh Pirates in the East Division scramble.

In other games, Los Angeles routed the Pirates 11-4, the New York Mets edged Cincinnati 3-1, San Francisco dropped Chicago 6-3, Atlanta nipped Montreal 8-7 and Houston blanked Philadelphia 4-0.

Was Parker raced home with the tie-breaking run in the eighth inning on Pirates' reliever Dave Giusti's wild pitch and then the Dodgers broke loose for seven runs in the ninth inning to wallop Pittsburgh.

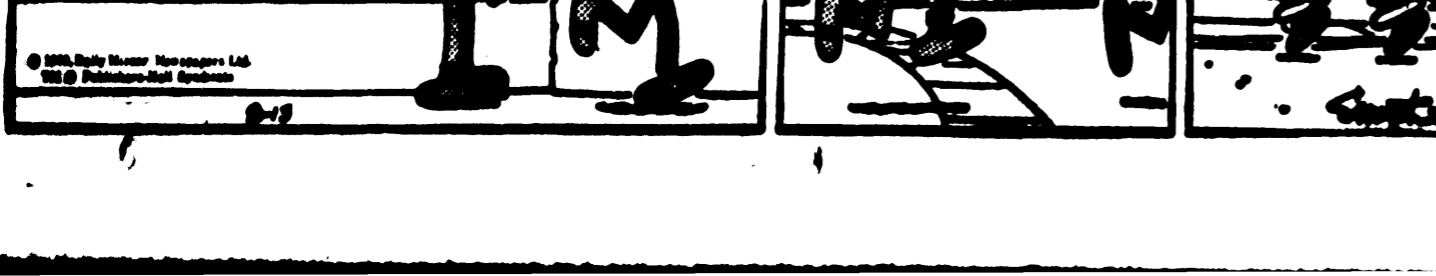

The loss, coupled with the Mets' triumph, dropped the Pirates' lead to only 1 1/2 games over New York in the East.

Red-hot Ted Stensmeire drove in the second eighth inning run for the Dodgers with a single and Jeff Torborg drilled a two-run single and Willie Crawford added a two-run double in the big ninth.

Fourth Straight
The Dodgers, who have won four straight, to get within 11 games of the Reds in the West, have ripped 6 hits, scored 36 runs and are hitting .419 during their streak. Stensmeire has batted at a .587 clip with 16 for 34 in his eight-game hitting string.

Wayne Garrett cracked a pair of doubles and scored both runs while Gary Gentry stopped the Reds on four hits for the Mets' victory.

Gentry, 24, won his first game since June 27. Tony Perez speared the shortstop for the right-hander with a run-scoring double in the sixth.

Louis Hailed As Most Fantastic Black Human

DETROIT (AP) — Joe Louis was called "one of the most fantastic black human beings put on the face of this earth" by master of ceremonies Bill Cosby as Detroit hosted "Salute to the Champ — Joe Louis" Wednesday night.

Louis was unable to be at the benefit-tribute as he remained in a Denver Veterans hospital while his wife Martha accepted the praise and applause of more than 8,000 who paid as much as $1,000 a seat to attend the event.

Sports personalities abounded with boxers Sugar Ray Robinson and Sonny Liston, basketball star Bill Russell, and football star Dick "Night Train" Lane all in the audience.

The entertainment headed by actress Coby featured Motown Record's top hit group the Jackson 5, along with B. B. King, Manilla Jackson, Billy Eckstine, the Four Tops and the comedy of Redd Foxx to round off the bill.

Film clips of Louis' fight victories drew thunderous applause from the crowd as did the appearance of Mrs. Martha Louis on stage to accept the formal good wishes for her husband.

Mrs. Louis said the "Brown Bomber" told her in Denver "I should really be there, Mom, but I just don't feel up to it."

Dr. Gary Martin, Louis' physician, said "It is in Joe's best interests not to attend."

Louis won the heavyweight championship on June 22, 1937 knocking out James J. Braddock. He retired from the ring March 1, 1948.

He had faced 71 professional opponents and bested 68 of them losing only to Max Baer, Ezzard Charles and Rocky Marciano.

Athletics Are On The Move; Trail Twins By Five Games

By The Associated Press
Only last weekend the Oakland Athletics were being counted out as serious pennant contenders in the American League West. Today, however, they're camping on the doorstep of first-place Minnesota, thanks in part to Campy Campanaria.

Five games ago the A's were third, 10 games back. But since the Twins have dropped every game they've played while Oakland has captured them all, including Wednesday night's 11-4 sheeting of Cleveland which, coupled with Minnesota's 5-3 loss to Washington, eased the A's within five games of the top.

Campanaria, the Oakland shortstop whose real first name is Bert, led the assault against the Indians, smacking four hits — one of them a triple — and scoring four runs. Frank Perdue contributed a three-run homer.

"I'm just trying to meet the ball," Campy said after the slugfest. "I'm not trying for home runs. It's the first time this season I've had four hits in a game."

Indians Take Early Lead
"I don't try harder just because we're in contention," the 24-year-old Cuban native said.

"I try to do my best at all times."

A's manager John McNamara said he "thought it was going to be one of those games" after the Indians grabbed a quick 4-1 lead. "We used up three pitchers in three innings."

"Bob Locker did a great job," McNamara said of the veteran right-hander who relieved reliever who blanked Cleveland through the final 5 2-3 frames.

"I'm not worrying about anyone else," McNamara added, referring to the pennant race.

Mud Hens Beaten; Snare Last Place
TOLEDO (AP) — The Toledo Mud Hens are now in the International League basement after losing to Syracuse 13-0 Wednesday while Winnipeg won a 9-1 game with Rochester.

The Hens are now 29 games out of first and a slim three percentage points behind the Winnipeg Waps which in turn is 20 1/2 games behind league leading Syracuse.

Toledo hosts Syracuse today for a single game.

Ed Neumann of the White Sox and Ray White of the Yankees traded solo homers but it was Bill Malen's two-run single in the seventh that made the difference.

Carl Yastrzemski knocked in five runs with a homer and a double and Gary Peters pitched out of several jams to boost Boston over Kansas City in the opener. But the Royals, after seeing their 3-0 lead vanish in the nightcap, got a ninth-inning double from Lou Piniella and the game-winning single from Paul Shoals.

Northern Cagers To Play Swedes
MARQUETTE (AP) — Northern Michigan will meet the touring Swedish National basketball team in a special exhibition at NMU's Hedgescock Fieldhouse Sunday, Dec. 6.

Northern basketball coach Glenn Brown said the match will qualify one NMU player for an American team which will tour Sweden next summer.

A right field box in Mile High Stadium, Denver, holds a stout steel cage bearing the sign, "Fingers are food, don't feed the bear." The cage is the domicile for a half-grown cub, mascot of the Denver Bears of the American Association baseball circuit.

Athletics Are On The Move; Trail Twins By Five Games

By The Associated Press

Only last weekend the Oakland Athletics were being counted out as serious pennant contenders in the American League West. Today, however, they're camping on the doorstep of first-place Minnesota, thanks in part to Campy Campaneris.

Five games ago the A's were third, 10 games back. But since the Twins have dropped every game they've played while Oakland has captured them all, including Wednesday night's 11-4 sheeling of Cleveland which, coupled with Minnesota's 5-3 loss to Washington, eased the A's within five games of the top.

Campaneris, the Oakland shortstop whose real first name is Bert, led the assault against the Indians, smacking four hits — one of them a triple — and scoring four runs. Frank Fernandez contributed a three-run homer.

"I'm just trying to meet the ball," Campy said after the slugfest. "I'm not trying for home runs. It's the first time this season I've had four hits in a game."

Indians Take Early Lead

"I don't try harder just because we're in contention," the 28-year-old Cuban native said, "I try to do my best at all times."

A's manager John McNamara said he "thought it was going to be one of those games" after the Indians grabbed a quick 4-1 lead. "We used up three pitchers in three innings."

"Bob Locker did a great job," McNamara said of the veteran right-handed reliever who blanked Cleveland through the final 5 2-3 frames.

"I'm not worrying about anyone else," McNamara added, referring to the pennant race.

Mud Hens Beaten; Snare Last Place

TOLEDO (AP) — The Toledo Mud Hens are now in the International League basement after losing to Syracuse 12-9 Wednesday while Winnipeg won a 9-1 game with Rochester.

The Hens are now 29 games out of first and a slim three percentage points behind the Winnipeg Whips which in turn is 28½ games behind league leading Syracuse.

Toledo hosts Syracuse today for a single game.

"We're just going out and trying to win every game."

In Wednesday night's other American League action, Baltimore nipped California 5-4, Milwaukee stunned Detroit 6-5, the Chicago White Sox trimmed the New York Yankees 5-1 and Kansas City split a two-night double-header with Boston, winning the nightcap 4-3 after the Red Sox took the opener 7-4.

Twins Continue Skid

Frank Howard's 31st home run and Mike Epstein's 15th, both two-run blasts, gave Washington its triumph over the reeling Twins, who managed just eight hits off Jim Hannan, 8-5, and reliever Joe Grzenda.

Andy Etchebarren drilled a two-run single in Baltimore's four-run fourth, then unloaded his second homer of the year leading off the seventh to pace the Baltimore attack that dropped California 1½ games behind the A's.

Ed Herrmann of the White Sox and Roy White of the Yankees traded solo homers but it was Bill Melton's two-run single in the seventh that made the difference.

Carl Yastrzemski knocked in five runs with a homer and a double and Gary Peters pitched out of several jams to boost Boston over Kansas City in the opener. But the Royals, after seeing their 3-0 lead vanish in the nightcap, got a ninth-inning double from Lou Piniella and the game-winning single from Paul Schaaf.

Northern Cagers To Play Swedes

MARQUETTE (AP) — Northern Michigan will meet the touring Swedish National basketball team in a special exhibition at NMU's Hedgecock Fieldhouse Sunday, Dec. 6.

Northern basketball coach Glenn Brown said the match will qualify one NMU player for an American team which will tour Sweden next summer.

A right field box in Mile High Stadium, Denver, holds a stout steel cage bearing the sign, "Fingers are food, don't feed the bear." The cage is the domicile for a half-grown cub, mascot of the Denver Bears of the American Association baseball circuit.

Traditions Ignored As Postal Bill Signed

WASHINGTON (AP) — With a stroke of the President's pen and a splash of blue paint, the government has junked a couple of postal traditions dating back to Benjamin Franklin, father of the U.S. mail.

Former Lawmaker Hits Century Mark

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former Rep. Maurice H. Thatcher celebrates his 100th birthday Saturday, but you'd hardly know it from his work schedule. The Kentucky Republican—a legislator who hasn't eaten meat for 60 years and doesn't drink coffee—still practices law and retains an active interest in conservation, philanthropy, genealogy and writing poetry.

The representative of a Louisville district from 1922 to 1933, Thatcher has had a life-long interest in conservation. He founded and still is president of the Eastern National Park-to-Highway Association, which promotes construction and improvement of parkways linking national parks and other natural areas.

He maintains a law office here and has used it to help without charge "people in need through no fault of their own." A widower, he finds nothing remarkable about his refusal to be consoled by old age. "I'm just a run-of-the-mill man," he says.

About 175 million tons of man-made materials pollute the air each year, according to a new study by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency.

Among other things, the measure buries the practice of patronage appointments—which all started, some say, when Franklin named his wife's relatives to be postmasters.

Then, amid more handshaking and approving smiles, Postmaster General Winton Blount unfurled a new seal, a dark blue, modern-art rendition of a bald eagle, to replace the horseback rider who symbolized the service since 1837.

Contrary to a misconception that he belonged to the Pony Express, the rider on the old seal was based on a crude woodcut made by Franklin, said Blount.

The streamlined new emblem has the nearly-extinct national bird poised for flight on a white field, above bold red and blue bars framing the words "U.S. Mail."

The seal, like the old one, will be worn by all postal employees—who will get completely new uniforms within two years that will be adorned by flag-blue braids and ties. The maroon decorations now worn will be gone.

Blunt also noted that mail boxes around the nation are being painted all dark blue, rather than red, white and blue, as an economy measure.

Mail trucks will stay the same color: top white, bottom blue.

Electrocuted

SAGINAW (AP) — Richard Franz, 19, of Saginaw, was electrocuted Wednesday while working in a power substation at the Chevrolet nuclear iron foundry in Saginaw.

Electrical power was shut off and the plant closed temporarily as a safety precaution. Work at the mill resumed with the first shift today.

Elderly Ready 'To Do Battle' Over U.S. Aid

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Representing the nation's 20 million persons over the age of 65, some 800 elderly persons who met here Wednesday for a national conference on aging pledged increased militancy in obtaining expanded federal aid.

Speakers at the conference emphasized the need for better medical care and higher income for the country's aged along with a need for finding ways to keep retired persons active and useful.

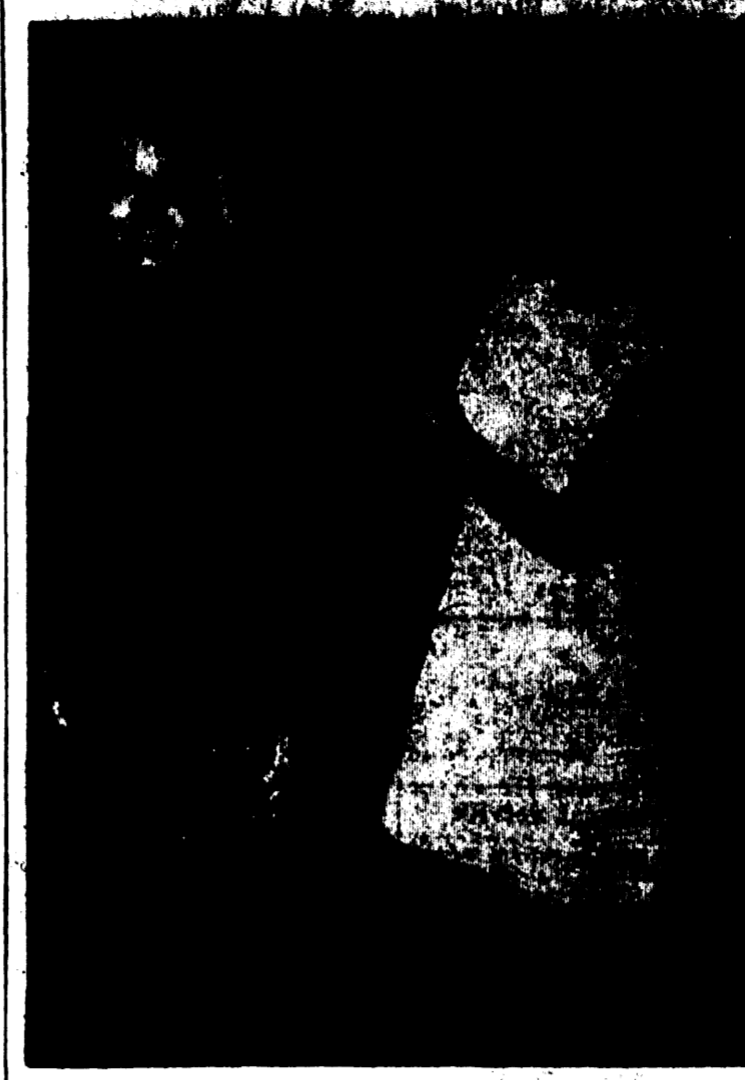

In championing the elderly's "right" to increased benefits, John DeVito, vice-chairman of the United Auto Workers' Retired Workers' Advisory Council said, "We're spending billions on Vietnam and the elderly get peanuts and pennies and are pushed into a corner. We fought two wars and have been through a depression. The senior citizen has the right to pick and eat the fruits."

Advising delegates on non-economic aspects of living their later years, Thomas Walker, president of the National Association of Retired Civil Employees, said, "Keep busy; don't sit in the rocking chair and twiddle your thumbs because you'll rust out—not wear out."

The delegates to the conference, the 23rd sponsored by the University of Michigan, came from senior citizen groups and public and private agencies that work with the elderly.

Part of the conference is devoted to preparing for the White House Conference on Aging scheduled for 1971.

Scientists Won't Buy Road Safety Policies

EAST LANSING (AP) — Many current highway safety policies and practices are not supported by scientific evidence, says a Michigan State University professor.

Prof. David Klein, an MSU social scientist, reviewed more than 200 recent scientific studies on highway safety. Klein and Prof. Julian Walker, of the University of Vermont Medical School, wrote a book on their findings, published by the U.S. Transportation Department.

They challenge the merit of driver education courses. "There is virtually no evidence," Klein said, "that driver education, as it is currently taught, helps to reduce the number of automobile crashes or traffic violations."

They also dispute the logic behind ticketing drivers for many types of driving termed illegal.

"There is no proof that many kinds of illegal driving cause crashes. Hence, it is not possible to predict an individual driver's risk of crash on the basis of his violation record," Klein said.

Klein said an enormous amount of time, money and public resources are spent in attempting to pinpoint blame or negligence.

Most crashes have multiple causes, he said, and blame or negligence is hard to determine. Klein said more than 60 percent of the drivers whose licenses are suspended or revoked continue to drive.

"But the notion that a few 'bad' drivers are responsible for the bulk of the accidents does not stand up under scientific scrutiny," Klein added.

Highway safety, at present, is pretty much of a guessing game, Klein contended, because the quality and quantity of crash and violation reporting is so poor and inadequate that it is next to impossible to:

—Determine whether safety measures really work.

—Clearly identify any trends in frequency and severity of crashes.

—Effectively use the point system to detect high risk drivers.

Old Church Burns

WAYNE (AP) — The oldest building in the Detroit suburb of Wayne was destroyed by fire Wednesday. Flames swept the 130-year-old original wing of the First Congregational Church, but spared a newer addition.

Fire Marshall Russell Johnson said he believed the blaze may have been started accidentally by workmen.

AMC Leader Blowing Horn On Pollution

BURLINGTON, Wis. (AP) — Outspoken William V. Luneburg, president of American Motors, struck back hard Wednesday at critics of the auto industry and chided news media for their coverage of such criticisms.

Luneburg, who also is chairman of the Automobile Manufacturers' Association, emphasized he spoke only as president of AMC, but his verbal blast raised speculation as to whether other auto companies might follow suit in answering critics.

There were no immediate comments from the other auto companies.

Luneburg centered much of his attention on a proposal by Sen. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., that sale of automobiles with internal combustion engines be banned after Jan. 1, 1975.

Luneburg did not mention Nelson by name, but left no doubt as to whom he was talking about when he said: "I am four squares behind the senator's concern with atmospheric pollution and I recognize his senatorial responsibilities as well as mine as an automotive manufacturer in seeking solutions to a cleaner environment."

"But I am astonished by his proposal. I can only conclude, regardless of the sincerity of his intentions, that the senator has little or no knowledge of automotive design or manufacturing and apparently hasn't taken the trouble to find out—a somewhat shocking situation—in view of the fact that this state's economy is importantly dependent on the automotive industry."

"The harmful effect of all this is a growing number of American people are beginning to believe that the automotive industry is callously indifferent and totally unresponsive to the need and problems associated with its product."

Luneburg's remarks came as a surprise to the 100 newsmen covering the national press preview of AMC's 1971 cars.

Detroit Council Debating Voting System Plans

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Common Council entered the debate over which election system to use in November by reporting Tuesday that 90 percent of Detroiters questioned said they approved of the city's new computer punch-card election system.

The computerized system also has support from officials in eight outstate communities who said Tuesday a similar punch-card operation worked perfectly in tabulating their elections.

Detroit must decide whether to use the computer system next November or whether to go back to the lever-operated voting machines. Controversy over the systems has raged since the final tabulation of Detroit's primary vote was delayed almost two days.

Computer experts said the delay was caused by an error in test data fed into computers during a trial run. But councilmen charged Tuesday that the lackadaisical attitude of election officials was also at fault.

Councilman Robert Tindal accused election officials of not adequately learning the computer operation. He said this caused further in a system that was overwhelmingly favored by the voters.

'Fortune' Admits Error in Story About Railroad

NEW YORK (AP) — Fortune magazine says an article in its August issue on accounting practices of the Penn Central Co. was in error in some instances.

The article had said that "unique" bookkeeping methods enabled the company to present a loss of at least $80 million as a profit of $4.4 million for 1969.

Penn Central's auditors said that the company's books for 1969 showed a net loss of $123 million.

The article examined the events that led to the company's railroad subsidiary filing for reorganization under the bankruptcy law.

A spokesman for Fortune said Monday the September issue will carry a letter from a senior partner of Penn Central's auditors, Peat, Marwick, Mitchell & Co., listing a series of errors in Fortune's article.

An editorial in the new issue will say: "In its references to accounting practices, Fortune misstated that its own analysis of the Penn Central figures, which were reported on file with the Interstate Commerce Commission, is in error in the instances cited."

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former Rep. Maurice H. Thatcher celebrates his 100th birthday Saturday, but you'd hardly know it from his work schedule.

Onassis Claims He And Jackie Ideally Happy

LONDON (AP) — Aristotle Onassis is quoted as saying he and his wife, the former Jacqueline Kennedy, are "ideally happy" and anybody who says that is not the case doesn't know what he is talking about.

The London Evening Standard, reporting Wednesday on an interview with the Greek shipping magnate during a business trip in London, said he dispelled any suggestion of a separation and plans to leave Friday to rejoin his wife in Europe.

"What I want everyone to know is that there is no rift," Onassis was quoted as saying.

"All this is complete mythology. It is unbelievable. It is absurd, unbelievable mythology. People invent these malicious stories because they have nothing else to do, because it amuses them."

Castro Rejects Cattle Show Bid

CHARLOTTETOWN, P.E.I. (AP) — Cuban Premier Fidel Castro has turned down an invitation by industrialist Cyrus Eaton to attend a cattle show at this Prince Edward Island community.

Eaton, attending the show with his family, told a news conference Wednesday he had received a cable from Castro saying the invitation came too late to make travel arrangements.

Eaton said Tuesday he had invited the Cuban leader to look over some of Eastern Canada's best stock at the provincial exhibition, because Castro has embarked on a campaign to improve standards of Cuban livestock by importing breeding animals.
